'More Smears' Says Premier

Allegation Government By-Passing
Slander Trail Termed 'Utterly False'

Premier Bennett denied today that he had called an early provincial general election in order to be returned to power before the Sommers-Sturdy case came to trial.

"That is utterly false," the premier complained. "Just another opposition smear. The opposition parties have been smearing ever since I announced this election last Monday night."

"One result of this smear campaign is that over in Vancouver they have had to hire extra girls to handle the hundreds of new Social Credit memberships that are pouring in from all over the province. The people are sick and tired of political smearing."

Referring to statements by opposition leaders that they will

Marilyn's Diary

Shells Folks!

Victoria certainly proved one thing to us Torontonians yesterday—it loves its Navy.

The way that thunderstorm and rain woke all of us early in the morning we thought that the grumbling clouds and dripping skies would keep the crowds away from the street parade.

But we dressed up warmly and found ourselves a spot on one of the streets and we were just amazed at the huge number of spectators who lined the streets to cheer and wave at the immaculate sailors as they glided by in ramrod straight lines.

Hundreds of little children sat at the curbs, their eyes as big as saucers and their faces just alive with excitement. A parade always does that to kids but it seems that a Navy parade brings an unmatched thrill to people of all ages.

Moving like one man, marching with a proud bearing, blocks of sailors went smartly by us, their gleaming white trim contrasting with the spotless blue of their uniforms and their bayonets glittering like hundreds of mirrors.

Then came the young Venture cadets, dressed in the shade of white that soap companies boast about. It was the sort of thing that makes a person proud to be a Canadian.

Then we went down to Horseshoe Bay (how well I remember that place) to see the Navy demonstration.

With tremendous roars, airplanes swooped out of the clouds like angry birds while ships below fought them off. It was all simulated, but the realism was enough to shake a person.

Depth bombs sent towering columns of water soaring slowly in the air, where they seemed to hang like tapestries and all the while, colored flares turned the sky into a crackling, fantastically-colored Halloween.

I, like everyone else, just stood there with my mouth wide open. I was snapped out of my awe when the frogmen went to work. Dressed in spooky-looking rubber suits, they dropped from a helicopter and proceeded to blow up a model aircraft carrier in a sinister fashion that reminded me of a science-fiction story.

Maybe those boys have the answer to the Strait.

You wear a rubber suit to beat the cold, foot flippers to make good time, tanks of air to aid your breathing and you beat the waves by going underwater all the way.

But I really don't think I could go for the idea of swimming while carrying a bunch of bombs tied around my middle.

When told that CCF Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan might "return Mr. Bennett's visit" by taking part in the B.C. election, the premier laughed and said:

"Let him come by all means. We will welcome him. We welcome everyone. We believe a

CLIMAX TO BE REACHED TONIGHT

Democratic convention, centred by speaker's rostrum, has been in session since Monday at International Amphitheatre in Chicago. Voting is scheduled tonight for presidential candidate, Friday for vice-presidential nominee.

Democratic Platform In Thumbnail Summary

CHICAGO (UP) — Thumbnail summary of the Democratic platform—

Democrats promised to: Uphold the Supreme Court school desegregation decision as "the law of the land" but oppose use of "force" to carry it out. Balance budget and reduce taxes. Restore farm price supports to "full parity."

Broaden social security, expand public housing, aid school construction, liberalize unemployment compensation. Continue efforts "to eradicate discrimination based on race, religion or national origin" and to recognize that every child has full right under the constitution "without discrimination" to educational opportunity.

Repeal the Taft-Hartley Law and raise the minimum wage from $1 an hour to $1.25. Seek internationalization of the Suez Canal, grant defensive arms to Israel, oppose the admission of Red China to the United Nations. Provide defence forces "so clearly superior in modern weapons to those of any possible enemy that our armed strength will make an attack on the free world unthinkable."

Provide adequate protection within a philosophy of free trade for domestic industries suffering from competition of foreign imports. Democrats accused Republicans of: "Substituting deceptive slogans and dismal deeds for democratic progress."

Giving the United States a "second-best defence." Failing to seek peace "with determination" and "unnecessarily and dangerously" subjecting the United States "to the risk of atomic war."

Failing to meet "the desperate needs of farmers." Failing to safeguard natural resources. Favoring monopoly, letting wages lag behind prices. Opposing expansion of social security and reversing public housing.

Trying to make it appear that the Supreme Court "is part of the Republican party." Stacking the National Labor Relations Board with "biased management personnel."

TINIEST MISSILE

U.S. Reveals 'Dart' Details

WASHINGTON (AP) — The army Tuesday distributed pictures of the "dart," the smallest weapon in America's growing arsenal of guided missiles. The Dart was specifically designed to track and kill enemy tanks.

It will be produced in quantity by the Utica-Bend Corporation of Utica, Mich., a subsidiary of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation. The initial production contract authorized by the army will run to about $16,565,000.

Specific performance information about the Dart remains secret but it is known the new missile is highly accurate, that it can be operated by one or two trained men and is small enough to be moved with mobile artillery units on a battlefield.

FOR NEXT WEEK'S SESSION

GOP Nails Down Election Planks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Republican leaders expect to work out in closed session tonight their first rough draft of their 1956 platform.

Senator Everett Dirksen of Illinois says it will have a strong civil rights statement. It may urge the arming of Israel to help preserve Middle East peace, reports Jacob K. Javits, attorney-general of New York.

Party stalwarts have reiterated at every opportunity that Vice-President Nixon will be re-nominated at the party convention opening Monday. But Governors Theodore McKeldin of Maryland and Goodwin Knight of California have reiterated equally frequently "I'm available." And headquarters for Governor Christian Herter of Massachusetts has opened next door to the downtown office of "Citizens for Eisenhower," who support Nixon.

The draft platform will go Saturday to the full national committee which will reward it on Sunday for expected adoption by the national convention Tuesday.

President Eisenhower has requested that it be kept short and free "of denunciation and bombast."

Dirksen, of the civil rights sub-committee, scoffed at the civil rights plank the Democrats adopted in Chicago, and said "there will be no such serpentine weaselling on our part."

"The Supreme Court has interpreted the constitution and that's the law of the land," Dirksen promised that his group will write a strong plank on civil rights, calling upon Congress to take up President

REMOVED OWN APPENDIX — WITH GUN

GLASGOW (Reuters) — The Marquess of Bute, 49, one of the richest men in Britain, died at his home near Rothsay on the Isle of Bute Tuesday night after an illness.

Lord Bute owned 117,000 acres of land in Scotland and South Wales and drew a vast income from coal royalties on his Welsh estates. He also had 11 titles and was hereditary Sheriff of Bute.

One day when he was out shooting, Lord Bute became one of the few men ever to remove his own appendix. His gun fired into his stomach as he was climbing a hedge and shot his appendix out.

Lord Bute is succeeded by his son, the 23-year-old Earl of Dumfries.

Spain Harrassing Gibraltar, Says U.K.

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain accused Spain Wednesday of making "a determined attempt" to harm the economy of Gibraltar, Britain's peninsular fortress off the southern coast of Spain.

In a colonial office report issued on Gibraltar for the years 1954 and 1955, Britain said Spain had taken measures "to harm the economy of the rock in belief that this would weaken the loyalty of its inhabitants," many of whom commute daily from the Spanish mainland to jobs on the British crown colony.

Among the measures taken, Britain said the most important were these:

"The Spanish consulate at Gibraltar was closed, severe restrictions were placed on the entry of Spanish visitors and to a lesser extent of Spanish labor into Gibraltar. Some facilities of long standing for residents of Gibraltar entering Spain were revoked, and the Spanish press and radio were at times particularly virulent."

Partners of Peace

WHEN NATO SET UP ITS COMMITTEE of "Three Wise Men" to study the future of the free world's alliance it was commonly supposed that the result would be only a piece of window dressing.

Reports from Ottawa, which seem to reflect the viewpoint of Mr. Pearson, one of the three architects of NATO reform, indicate that substantial results will follow their study. Ottawa evidently is optimistic about the progress achieved so far. But this progress has not been in the expected direction.

From the first days of NATO Canada argued that the alliance must have more than military power. It must be broadened out into the spheres of politics and economics.

When the Three Wise Men came to question all the individual member governments of NATO they found little support for the Canadian view. Not that political and economic co-operation was considered unimportant. All the members agreed that such measures were vital. It was generally held, however, that the machinery for this work already existed in the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade and in the economic divisions of the United Nations. Why, it was asked, should NATO duplicate that work?

If that is the finding of the Three Wise Men, as appears probable, the question originally raised by Canada remains—why has the existing machinery of political and economic co-operation failed to achieve the desired results? And now that the problem has been underlined by the NATO inquiry will the members attempt anew to solve it with the means already at their disposal?

The questionnaire submitted by the Three Wise Men to the member governments has elicited some realistic replies in another respect. Most of all these governments apparently realize that the NATO alliance has been drifting dangerously apart in the last six months and that this drift must be arrested. How can it be arrested?

The reply from most members is that they must be prepared to submit their defence policies more fully and promptly to NATO headquarters and to seek prior consultation with their allies before they alter their defence budgets and military establishments.

This has always been Canada's view and we have always made good our commitments to NATO. Other members have shown less regard for the convenience of their partners. In some countries, including Canada, some politicians have demanded reductions in defence plans as if we could always act unilaterally regardless of our commitments.

If closer consultation between the NATO nations must always be a difficult process, the inquiries of the Three Wise Men already have secured a clear answer to another problem.

Can the free world afford to dispense with its conventional armaments and rely almost entirely on atomic weapons? That question has been worrying all the member governments for months and in the United States is the subject of a great national debate. But the questionnaire submitted to the NATO partners has brought an overwhelming answer in the negative—we cannot abandon conventional weapons. We must retain them along with the ultimate weapon of the atom.

The reason for this conclusion is obvious. If the ultimate weapon is ever used it will be in the ultimate war which no one can win and all must lose. Therefore, no nation will lightly provoke it. Short of ultimate war, however, some nations may attempt local aggressions and they can be safely repelled only by conventional weapons. The existence of such weapons will be the best guarantee against aggression.

For example, if East Germany thought of seizing Berlin it would know in advance that it must collide with NATO and its conventional weapons. That fear must deter any attacker.

On the other hand, if East Germany knew that the West had no defence but the nuclear weapon it could assume, perhaps safely, that the West would not precipitate the ultimate war by using that weapon to save one city. Thus conventional weapons, the NATO partners agree, are essential both to deter aggression and, if necessary, to subdue it without automatically triggering the suicide of civilization.

Why the Big Rush?

FIRST VICTIMS OF PREMIER Bennett's unseemly rush to obtain an unnecessary mandate from the people will be the voters who have insufficient time to get their names on the registration lists.

With less than a week to register, between 10,000 and 25,000 Greater Victoria voters at the moment are without the right to go to the polls. Unless they can obtain forms, fill them out and return them by next Tuesday night, and unless the registration machinery can turn quickly enough to get the names properly recorded, these people will be barred from voting.

For thousands of persons in rural areas—loggers, miners and others—without an opportunity to return registration forms, the problem is even more serious.

This may not be a situation envisioned by the Premier in calling his precipitate and quite unnecessary election. But it is nonetheless real, and a direct result, on the one hand, of speed-up laws his administration passed in 1953, and on the other of his great hurry to hold an election while the Sommers case is still in the legal doldrums.

Registered voters who do not like this way of conducting a democratic franchise will be able to express their opinion in the polling booths. But what of those who have been deprived of their vote? There can be very few, if any, parallels in Canadian history for this situation.

The Beef Eaters

NOT LONG AGO CANADA WAS a large exporter of cattle and beef. Today, according to the latest figures, it is a net importer. It is eating all the beef it can produce and buying a little from the United States.

Some 40,000 head of Canadian cattle are slaughtered and eaten by Canadians every week in order to supply the average person with 72 pounds a year. After the last war we were able to export as much as 400,000 head of cattle a year, mostly to the United States. Now we have an increased population to feed and it is eating far more beef per capita, despite the present high price. As a result, we shall import some 6,000 head of cattle this year while exporting only about 1,000 head.

This represents something of a revolution in Canadian agriculture. Only a few years ago we had a large beef surplus and when the American market was barred from us by our brief foot-and-mouth disease epidemic the cattle industry was desperate. Now it can sell all it produces at home to a growing population with money to buy more beef and other meat than ever before.

In the long run the same thing will happen in most branches of Canadian agriculture—the home market will absorb virtually all production except perhaps cereals from the prairies. And we shall need increasing imports of many foodstuffs that we cannot grow in sufficient quantities.

Drink Like White Men

CANADA'S CITIZENSHIP MINISTER, Mr. J. W. Pickersgill, who is also superintendent general of Indian affairs, has expressed the opinion that Indians react to liquor in the same way that white men do.

He does not believe that there is the "slightest physiological evidence" to suggest that liquor affected Indians more than other racial groups, though individuals living a primitive life and unaccustomed to intoxicants might react more quickly than those used to drinking.

This opinion was advanced as he supported a bill to give Indians the same right to buy liquor as that enjoyed by other Canadians—provided the Indian bands concerned and the provincial authorities approved such sale.

The minister's opinion is interesting in that it refutes the suggestion that Indians are constitutionally unable to carry their liquor. A similar refutation has been given, of course, by the experience of enfranchised Indians who enjoy the rights of full citizens.

Apart from removing a psychological barrier, the easier distribution of alcohol to Indians can be expected to do little for the natives. The psychological factor, however, is important. And once the restrictions have been lifted, the days of the individual who bootlegs intoxicants to Indians should be numbered.

The bootlegger is the one who makes a mock of existing regulations. He will supply the native if the native can pay his exorbitant prices. Legalized sales should do much to curb his activities, if not to eliminate them. That could be a very positive result of liberalized liquor legislation for Indians.

Mrs. Noggins Runs for Office

FOR a long time I have missed my neighbor, Mrs. Alfred Noggins, but after a period of silence and meditation she has emerged as the Social Credit candidate for the historic constituency of Rattle Snake Bluff.

Bluff and today she obliged me with a brief outline of the issues now before the sovereign electorate.

"Wot I can't get through my 'ead," said Mrs. Noggins, "is why anybody, even a Liberal or a Conservative, should try to say there is no reason for an election. Nacherally, there's every reason. For wot's the purpose of any election? Why, to get elected of course, that's wot."

"Premier Bennett seen that with clear vision and couldn't be distracted from the main point. Yes, 'e 'as a strong grasp of essentials, and wot could be more essential than another Social Credit government to save the country from chaos, economy, debt reduction and lower taxes? And lookin' forward to the Sommers case, Mr. Bennett seen that a bird in the 'and is worth two in the courts. A snitch in time saves nine. So 'e calls the election for early autumn, knowin' that if winter comes Sommers can't be far behind."

"BUT wot impresses me most is Mr. Bennett's modesty. No, sir, 'e don't say his government is the best in 'uman 'istory but only the best in Canadian 'istory and that's very brief. Why, 'e don't even say the government is perfect, only that it made the world's boom single-handed and profited Canada's finest hour without any cost to the people, except their taxes."

"So when I 'eard 'im on the radio the other night I could of wept for joy. It was like listenin' to a vacuum cleaner salesman with the latest model and easy credit terms. Yes, sir, 'e's rejected our debt by borrowin' more money, 'e's reduced sales taxes by raisin' the rate and now 'e's goin' to pay our municipal taxes for free, after we've put up the money. I tell you, sir, that man's a genius."

"LIKE 'e says, Mr. Bennett realized the evil of the old parties since 'is boy'ood and that's why 'e was a lifelong Conservative until, entirely by accident, the Social Credit band wagon rolled by while 'e was jest standin' waitin' for a street car. So quite abashedly 'e leaped aboard and discovered to his surprise that 'e'd always been a Social Credit'er at 'eart."

"But 'e didn't forget 'is old Conservative friends, 'e destroyed 'em fer their own good, and to keep everything in fair balance 'e repudiated Social Credit, but the Social Crediters didn't care because they were safely in office, the pay was good and they liked their job of savin' the country fer selfless motives."

"WELL, sir, everythink was goin' along fine, nobody was gettin' in the government's way and thanks to Bennett the whole world was enjoyin' the biggest boom on record. Yet some'ow that didn't satisfy 'im."

"Nobody else was worried but 'is soul was troubled, 'e just couldn't go on governin' without knowin' fer sure that the people still loved 'im and 'is conscience, notwith'and, compelled 'im to get another vote of confidence before the law courts opened for their autumn term. Conscience can go no further. So he boldly faced the sacrifice of another term of office while the gettin' was good and plunged, like that lady in the old picture, into the chilly waters of September Morn, long before the other parties could even find their bathin' suits."

"PROUD I am, sir, to count myself a 'umble follower of that great man on the march to Ottawa, after the brief detour around Saskatchewan. Of course I'm goin' to win the mighty ridin' of Rattle Snake Bluff because right is on my side. Also arithmetic which is even stronger in politics."

"When the vote against me is split three ways the voters will helect me with an overwhelm'ing minority and prove their confidence in the government by givin' the splintered opposition over half the votes. When I've got right and arithmetic and Bennett behind me I know democracy is safe."

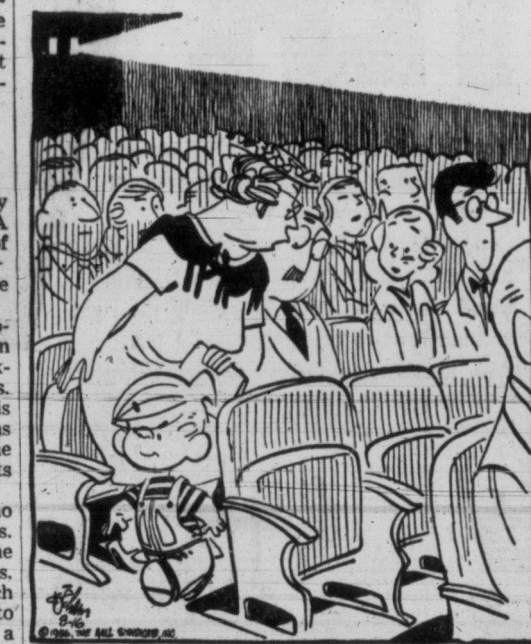

"WHY am I runnin'? Why, to save the country, of course, from the chaos that 'ad brought it to a peak of prosperity and almost ruined it. Wot is my platform? My platform is Bennett and you can't ask for anythink better. Wot is my sacred principles? Why, Social Credit, of course, so long as nobody takes it serious."

"Wot is my purpose? To get elected, nacherally and enjoy the privilege of runnin' British Columbia and the small indemnity paid by the penurious taxpayers."

"Wot is my 'ope? To see Bennett in Ottawa where 'e belongs and to share with the nation the blessin' of the 'ighest taxes ever known and a rebirth of morality in Canadian politics while the Sommers case is still sub judice. Like Mr. Bennett says, we're now approachin' the supreme watershed of our life in British Columbia and, under the circumstances, we'd better 'urry before the evidence is in."

Carbon Monoxide

With regard to Marilyn's swim: Did anyone ever consider the effect carbon monoxide would have on a person in the water surrounded by a big flotilla of boats with idling engines? Especially in the fog. We know that carbon monoxide does not rise like smoke would, it hugs the surface. It does not seem right that a swimmer like Cliff Lumsdon would show signs of weakening in one hour and ten minutes while pacing Marilyn and had to be taken out of the water in two hours.

It's only a suggestion which may help future swimmers.

Our Champion

Before the coming provincial election swallows the pages of the Press let us look sanely at the Marilyn Bell swim.

Compassion, resentment, sympathy and hostility have ousted clear thinking—Esprit de corps—notwithstanding.

Marilyn Bell is a professional swimmer. She is in the hands of a kindly and foremost coach whose watchfulness cannot be disputed.

Pithy, indulgence has no place in sport or work; a nurse may not faint (except from heart ailment); a soldier may not 'give in' to exhaustion; a sportsman must not 'let down' before his goal, and none of us thrive on maudlin sympathy. Understanding and keen expectancy—rather than hope—spurs us on.

Marilyn is our Canadian champion. She is in intensive training and also in good health. We can all help to make her buoyant. Her own prowess and splendid courage have already been established. Let us all show with united force of thinking that she can 'make it,' and with safety.

Why They Swim the Strait

What with swimmers operating more often, if less successfully, than steamships, many are asking "Why do they do it—these straits swimmers, marathon runners, and mountain climbers?"

Because it is, there? This pretty poetry fails to move most of us. The professional athlete contends for money, obviously. I dare say many put themselves to the test because of what is commonly called ego. A high opinion of one's self may be healthier than extreme modesty, but if this is the only purpose that holds a person in ice water for half a day, it is a most unhappy way to go about it. There must be much more comfortable ways to build up one's self respect.

I speak for myself as a former record maker, but I don't think that my emotions are unique. This, too, is too poetical, but perhaps just a little less mysterious.

A contest may bring laurels, or ashes, bitter cold, numbing exhaustion, agonizing effort, a satisfied curiosity, a powerful and efficient body, or death. But in it all, there is joy. The joy of being fully alive and knowing it.

It is a wild joy—sometimes fierce in a crisis, often mellow in the easy rhythm of man operating in his medium. The hunter finds joy in the chase, the warrior in battle, the intellectual in philosophizing, the artist in his creation. Perhaps a mother finds a steadier joy in her children.

Those who have never known this joy may criticize athletic endeavor as a hermit deprecates love. Wise men have produced the most cogent reasonings to show that love means only pain and sorrow, but the best of reasons and the most poignant of pains are not persuasive to those who have known the joy that goes with it. Marriage will ever be popular, and so will sport.

This may be disappointing to those who would suffer vicariously through an athlete. Even the most soundly beaten usually recover some pep in an hour and go on to improve their game. It is not for the sybarite to criticize the spartan, or vice versa. Each is a law to himself.

Witnesses

The majority of your letters criticize the Dean—why are his supporters so supine in not coming to his defence?

During the last war Jehovah's Witnesses were prohibited by our government and with good reason.

Now, these brain-washed morons with their parrot-like stream of wordy nonsense are allowed to pester from door to door, asking for the opportunity to give a "little sermon."

Imagine the state of Canada and the U.S. if all young men joined the "Witnesses" and automatically became "ministers"—Navy, Air Force and Army would cease to exist.

Congratulations, Dean Whitlow, for your courageous, restrained and unalloyed protest.

COMMON SENSE.

The 'Beasts'

In Dean Whitlow's statement concerning the book "Light" 1 and 2, he does not give an accurate quotation. The "Light" books are a study verse by verse of Revelation. Does the Dean not know the Bible calls world kingdoms "beasts," which are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth." Verse 23 states: "Thus he said, the fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces."

Therefore Rev. 17:11 was being explained which states: "And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space. And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven and goeth into perdition."

At the time John saw the vision, Rome was the dominant world power; prior to that there were five world powers, Egypt, Assyria, Babylon, Medo-Persia, Greece then Rome, the sixth. Great Britain was the seventh world power and the greatest that ever existed on earth, then comes the United Nations made up of many nations.

So it is not Jehovah's Witnesses who speak of beasts it's the Bible, and I'm afraid the Dean can't stand against Daniel.

Showdown or Guaranties?

BY WALTER LIPPMANN, From Washington

THE Suez dispute is on two planes which though they are related, need to be carefully distinguished in our minds. On one plane, the circumstances of the seizure of the Suez Canal Company are a spectacular test of prestige, precipitated by President Nasser in order to demonstrate that his power in the Middle East is greater than that of the Western nations. On the other plane, by taking over the administration of the canal, he is in a position to discriminate among the users of the canal, and to exert upon them political pressure.

On the first plane, that of prestige, the dispute is a showdown which, carried to its conclusion, would mean either the fall of Nasser or the collapse of the British, French and American position from Morocco to the Persian Gulf.

On the second plane, the issue is the modernization and the implementation of the treaty of 1888, guaranteeing free and equal use of the canal.

The question, which has been posed in London, Paris and Washington, is whether to move on the first plane or on the second—towards a showdown with Nasser or towards measures to protect the international character of the canal.

Keep It Open

The decision agreed to by the Western powers has been to move on the second plane—that, as the London "Economist" puts it, "the immediate Western interest is not to teach Col. Nasser a lesson (he must learn his own lessons) but to keep the ships passing through the canal."

This is a wise decision, even from the point of view of the showdown on prestige. For if by patient, resourceful and disinterested diplomacy the treaty of 1888 can be modernized and reaffirmed, with general international support, there will be, in the old Wilsonian phrase, "peace without victory" in the canal zone.

There is, in fact, no other course open to us. For, except in the case of the Israeli ships which the Western powers have condoned, Nasser has not violated the treaty of 1888.

To use force against him, say to blockade his ports or to reoccupy the canal zone, would, as of now, be aggression within the meaning of the United Nations Charter. Almost certainly, it would bring virtually the whole of Asia to Nasser's side and against the West. In all probability it would set off a chain reaction in the Arab countries, involving reprisals on the pipe lines and the oil fields.

There is every reason to suppose that the seizure of the canal company was carefully planned and prepared well in advance, and we must suppose that Nasser and the leaders in the Arab states have other moves prepared as their answer to Western intervention. It is not to our interest to provoke these moves since, as is self-evident, Nasser would have the moral and political support of such a large part of the world.

The British decision to evacuate its armed forces from Egyptian territory—a decision for which we have some responsibility—marked the end of an epoch in the Middle East.

Mutual Advantages

It means that national interests in the Middle East will have to be based not on vested rights but on contracts and agreements arrived at by the calculation of mutual advantages. It is too late to consider seriously as practical policy the restoration of the old relationship.

The Western powers can intervene if they are attacked. They can intervene to repel overt aggression. But they cannot intervene in order to impose the kind of regime they would like to see in the canal zone. They must use diplomacy to influence Egypt and its friends.

The dependence of Western Europe on the canal is undeniably big, and the dependence of Great Britain is even worse. Nearly half of the oil consumed in Western Europe last year came through Suez, for Great Britain it was 75 per cent.

Whatever the guarantees that can be worked out by diplomacy, it will remain the stark fact that Nasser has physical control of the canal, that Western Europe can be critically hurt if the canal is closed.

For that reason, it is imperative that the Western powers concert measures to reduce their dependence on Suez, to break the monopoly which Egypt possesses over their vital communications. The less they are dependent, the more it will be to Egypt's advantage to keep open the canal on fair terms.

That is why America should encourage and help the British and the French who are thinking of such measures as the builder of more and bigger tankers to go around the Cape, and of a pipeline, conceivably even a second canal, from the Red Sea to the Mediterranean through Israel in order to bypass Suez.

Marathon

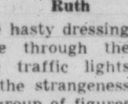

FOR 9½ solid hours, I've been trying to get the Marilyn Bell swim down on paper. I can't do it. It's defeated me.

I'm so furious that I'm going to try again. Because, normally, I don't get into this state of frozen stupidity when it comes to writing. As a rule, the words flow easily with a rhythm of their own.

Perhaps it's still the aftermath of the day spent aboard the Sudbury. For the day, once the swim had started, seemed to me to have a sort of dreamlike, frozen quality.

It started at 3.30 in the morning when the alarm went off and I sprang out of bed without quite knowing why.

I clearly remember the feeling of high adventure, the hasty dressing in warm clothes, the drive through the almost-deserted town where traffic lights still blinked green and red, the strangeness of the dock in the dark, the group of figures on the afterdeck of the Island Champion, the heavenly hot cup of coffee on the Sudbury, the geometric pattern formed by the Johnson Street Bridge uplifted against a paling sky.

Ruth

I remember, vividly, the departure from Horseshoe Bay, the choppy water of the first few miles, and the fog closing in until we seemed to be in a timeless world of utter isolation.

The sense of isolation and timelessness grew as the hours went by.

The timelessness was an illusion, of course. For, on every hand, people were talking of time, of strokes per minute, of miles per hour, of the time when tides would change.

The isolation, too, was an illusion. In actual fact, we were closely linked to shore by messenger boats and microphones. All that happened was being photographed and reported and broadcast to an astonishing degree.

But to me, the sense of isolation was definitely there.

Then, about noon, another feeling was added to the day. It wasn't boredom, exactly. It wasn't quite despair. I can only describe it by saying that, for no apparent reason, I suddenly thought of Keats and the drowsy numbness that pains the sense, and of the dull opiate that drags one down into the land of forgetfulness.

Because, by noon, it was truly a marathon swim. All of us felt it.

On and on it went—the invisible shores, the shining sea, the Island Champion rolling gently in the slowly heaving swell, the fog closing in again until boats were shadowy shapes and it was difficult to see the white cap still bobbing, the arms still dipping in and out, though more slowly than before.

On and on and on. As if nothing could break the dreamy, drowsy, numbing spell.

And then, with sudden drama and confusion, the spell was broken. The swim was over. Reality returned. A sad and disappointing reality.

It was a relief, almost, to be moving quickly again instead of creeping into a soft, grey eternity, to come out of the fog and see the familiar Victoria waterfront in brightness and sunshine.

Driving home through town, and still weighed down by pity and depression, I marvelled at the people going normally about the streets.

They couldn't know, I thought, that we who'd watched the swim from boats had been part way to the lonely, dreamlike, intangible world where true marathon swimmers have an irresistible urge to go.

Kitchen for Disabled Woman

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

A fascinating exhibit at the recent meeting of the American Medical Association, in Chicago, was presided over by Dr. Edward W. Lowman, of New York City, who for years has worked with Dr. Howard Rusk. Every woman in the country and especially every woman with had arthritis, or stiff arm, or a crippling paralysis would have had a wonderful time studying this model room. There were all sorts of arrangements in the kitchen to be used by a person who has only one hand, or only one or two functioning fingers, or who cannot bend over to pick anything off the floor or off a low shelf. In the kitchen practically everything was on one level. The telephone was so arranged that it could be answered just by pushing a button, and then talking at it. There were long tongs and canes of various kinds with a hook or a magnet on the end so that the woman could pick things off the floor or pull on her socks. There were knives, forks and spoons on long handles or on big handles that could be grasped with a hand that would not close well, and there were spoons that could be fastened to a paralyzed hand. There were gadgets that could be maintained by only one or two fingers. These gadgets and other interesting ones can be found in Dr. Rusk's book, "Living with a Disability," (Doubleday).

Dr. Alvarez

As I have said before in this column, many good people, through their strong objections to hearing anything about venereal disease, for years compelled editors to keep the words syphilis and gonorrhea out of the papers. Finally, educated persons began to learn that always in a large percentage of cases, venereal diseases have been contracted by perfectly innocent wives and children. Because of our desire to keep our children ignorant, we made it easier for hundreds of thousands of teenagers to get venereal disease. They get it because they did not know the dangers they ran, and they had no idea of protecting themselves.

A few hundred times when I have found syphilis in a highly respectable married man of 60, he has told me that he contracted the disease when he was 14 or 15 and knew nothing of the dangers he ran. Unfortunately, also, he did not know how terrible a danger he ran in not getting adequate treatment for his disease. When he did wake to his danger he had a permanent partial paralysis of his legs, or a beginning insanity. Then, when I examined his wife, I sometimes found that she also had the disease. She had never had any reason to suspect this.

I just read that recently, when health officers checked up on a youth who had acute syphilis, they found that 211 persons had been exposed, because they all—youth men and women and girls and boys—belonged to a group who consorted together without any trace of morality.

In a paper given at the First International Symposium on Venereal Diseases, held recently in Washington, it was pointed out that from one-fifth to one-fourth of the persons who contract gonorrhea are teenagers. Such youngsters naturally tend to get poor treatment if only because the boys dread confessing their misdeeds to their parents, and the girls commonly do not know what is the matter with them. As a result, many a girl becomes sterilized so that some day when she marries she cannot bear children. In some cases the pelvis becomes so badly infected that the girl later has to lose her womb and even her ovaries.

SYNOPSIS—Cool air now covers the entire province and in consequence there will be a drop in temperature in eastern districts of about 15 degrees from the maxima experienced Wednesday.

In the central interior a thrust of air from the Canadian northland will lower temperatures still further and afternoon highs in that region will be about 10 or 15 degrees below normal for the season.

There will be some rain in the central interior today and some showers or thunder showers in southeastern British Columbia this afternoon but elsewhere precipitation should be slight.

Out over the ocean a deep storm centre is grinding to a halt out by the weather ship so that the outlook for Friday in most areas is for improving condition.

Workman Falls to Death
From New Oak St. Bridge

(The Canadian Press)

VANCOUVER — A fellow worker fell Wednesday in an attempt to save Construction Foreman William McGowan, of Burnaby, who fell into the Fraser River while working on the multi-million-dollar Oak St. bridge here.

McGowan, in his middle 50s, slipped while attempting to jump from a pier to a scow. Percy Jackson immediately leaped into the water to try to save McGowan but could not see him in the muddy water.

Fellow workers said McGowan landed on the scow's deck, but that overnight rain had made it slippery and he toppled backwards into 20 feet of water.

It was the first fatality on the new bridge.

Police and construction workers dragged the river for nearly 90 minutes before recovering McGowan's body.

CARIBOO CRASH FATAL

WILLIAMS LAKE — An Aldergrove man died Tuesday in hospital here of injuries suffered earlier in a traffic accident. Robert William Harrow, 27, and his five-year-old son, were injured when their car went out of control and off the road at 86-Mile House.

Both were taken to Williams Lake Hospital but the boy was discharged after treatment.

VETERAN DENTIST DIES

KASLO — Dr. William Wallace Irwin, 74, former president of the Council of Dental Surgeons of Saskatchewan and ardent sportsman, died at his home at nearby Mirror Lake Wednesday. Dr. Irwin practised in Moose Jaw for 45 years. He moved to Mirror Lake in 1947.

He is survived by his widow, two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Graham of Vancouver, and Dr. Mae Retman in Ceylon, and a brother, Walter, of Detroit, Mich.

HOUSES DAMAGED

NORTH VANCOUVER — Two houses were damaged by a lightning bolt Wednesday.

A television antenna at the home of Frank Manson was brought down, a ceiling beam shattered, and part of the dining room wall forced away from the studding.

In the nearby home of Dave McKay a hole the size of a football was burned in the roof when the lightning was carried down the television antenna guy-wires. Tops of four trees near the homes were sheared off.

No one was injured.

GIRLS HURT IN CRASH

CHILLIWACK — Two teenage girls were seriously injured late Wednesday when the car in which they were riding collided with a half-ton pickup truck just west of Chilliwack.

Carol Roy, 16, and Lindie Burston, 15, are in hospital here and their condition was believed serious.

CCF Discloses
$10,881 Fund

THE CANADIAN PRESS

VANCOUVER — The British Columbia CCF party revealed $10,881 in election funds Wednesday and challenged the Social Credit party to follow its example by making public its campaign fund bank balance.

Hal Thayer, CCF provincial secretary, predicted the challenge will be sidestepped by Premier Bennett.

"We challenge the premier to direct his Tory-Social Credit coalition to prove that they are not just another old-line party by publishing the full list of all their contributions.

"Ours is a negligible amount compared with the millions in the war chest of Social Credit," Thayer said.

500 SCORED "DIG DEEP" CONTRIBUTOR $87.75

VANCOUVER — Five hundred Vancouver Centre Social Crediters produced $87.75 Wednesday night after an appeal to "dig deep" to disprove slush fund charges.

Mrs. Evelyn Fingerson, chairman of the ridings nomination meeting, criticized charges "in the press" that Social Credit campaigns are supported by slush funds.

"You here tonight are the slush from which funds come," said Mrs. Fingerson. "Dig down till it hurts. We've got a tough battle ahead."

CENTRE SCORES NAME MATTHEW, PETERSON

VANCOUVER — Vancouver Centre MLAs Alex Matthew and Les Peterson were nominated as Social Credit candidates Wednesday night. Both won by acclamation.

Mr. Matthew was first elected to the provincial legislature in 1953. Mr. Peterson won his seat at a by-election earlier this year after the death of MLA George C. Moxham.

ALBURNI COFFERS NOMINATE WEDNESDAY

PORT ALBERNI — Alberni CCF Association delegates will meet here next Wednesday to nominate their candidate, John Squire, MLA, has said he will accept the nomination if it is offered him.

KERMEN NOMINATED BY ROYAL CITY SOCREDS

NEW WESTMINSTER — President Stanley G. Kermeen of the Social Credit Riding Association was nominated as the party's candidate for the seat now held by Rae Eddie, CCF. Mr. Kermeen defeated Mrs. Maude Corrigan in a ballot vote.

CCF, SOCRD NAME SALMON ARM CANDIDATES

SALMON ARM — Social Credit and CCF candidates have been named here for the Sept. 19 election. J. Allan Reid, MLA, was re-nominated Wednesday night. Earlier the CCF had chosen ex-reeve W. J. Thompson of Salmon Arm as their standard bearer.

PR. RUPERT LIBERALS ENDORSE BRUCE BROWN

PRINCE RUPERT — A Bruce Brown, MLA for Prince Rupert, was unanimously nominated at a meeting here Wednesday night.

Acting Mayor Kay Smith was named campaign manager.

Social Crediters will nominate on Thursday.

A CCF party executive meeting is scheduled today to arrange a nomination meeting next week.

$1,200 Strike Vote Expenses Authorized

Issue of the sum of $1,200 from the consolidated revenue fund for the cost of taking strike votes at various points along the mainland coast and on Vancouver Island was authorized by the B.C. cabinet Wednesday.

The strike votes were taken from tenderman and shore workers employed by various fishing companies during July last.

Giants Erupt, Knock Brooks Down Ladder

IT'S MY VIEW BY Bill Walker

CLEANING OUT THE BOTTOM DRAWER—but before we open the drawer, a caller has a word.

Ab Weibe, says a Mr. Wright, "hit the longest home run I've ever seen hit in softball the other night, and I think Ab deserves a word of praise."

Granted, Mr. Wright, for we too know that Ab makes many sacrifices in his long travels from work to Central Park to aid his Gorge Hotel teammates, and is one of the outstanding players in the senior league. He plays the game for the sake of the game and because of that is a credit to the sport.

We should have mentioned it before, but there was a lacrosse playing visitor in town the other day who had much to do with Shamrock history.

Darrell Popham, son of Intercity League commissioner Edwin Sr., and brother of Shamrock president, Ed Jr., made a flying jet trip west recently in his role as flying controller with the RCAF.

Old-time boxla fans will recall that it was Darrell's overtime goal in Vancouver in 1950 that gave the Shamrocks a final playoff berth against the Irish in the Intercity League.

When England's Derek Ibbotson recently ran a 3.59.4 mile, he literally ran into the arms of his fiancée at the finish.

Maureen McCarthy was the girl in question and she was waiting on the track to compete in the next event, the 880-yard relay.

Steve Bilko of the Los Angeles Angels is well on his way to shattering Tony Lazzeri's home run mark of 60 in the PCL this year but, more to the point, Steve has a philosophy that other baseball players could well take a lesson from.

Steve, who seldom beefs with the umpires, gives as he is given.

"I strike out a lot, so I figure if I miss three times with the bat, they're entitled to miss once in a while, too."

The caller who asked is so right. Jockey Johnny Longden who is closing rapidly on Sir Gordon Richards' all-time jockey winning mark of 4,870, is scheduled to ride in the Longacres Mile in Seattle on Aug. 26.

He will be up on either Peter Bane or John D. of Alberta Ranches. On the subject of horse racing, the decision as to whether racing will return to Sandown Park, Sidney, this year, will likely be determined this week.

The problem, according to Bob Randall, is that the horsemen want higher purse fees than the association feels it can pay, having suffered a big loss last year at the suburban track.

Can't help but agree with major leaguer Roy Smalley who, when discussing Ted Williams' recent spitting bee, he said of the fans who boo players:

"Sometimes the fans who boo identify themselves with the particular players they are deriding. They actually put themselves in the player's shoes and want him to do well. When he does, they applaud—and some feel they're applauding themselves. But when things go the other way, they boo, and in a way, maybe they're booing themselves for their own shortcomings."

Whitey Picks Pils As Biggest Hurdle

Victoria 17, New Westminster 7

Playoff action in the Intercity Lacrosse League, which gets under way at Vancouver on Tuesday, should be considerably more interesting than Wednesday's last home game of the regular season at Memorial arena between Victoria Shamrocks and New Westminster Salmonbellies.

Coach Whitey Severson seemed optimistic about the Rocks' chances in post-season play, after his charges won Wednesday, 17-7, but he was of the opinion that more Victoria headbatters will come from Vancouver than from Nanaimo.

"We just about beat Nanaimo last game," he said, "Vancouver will be the toughest."

Both Presque Bradshaw and Al Gill, not in the line-up for Wednesday's game, will be dressed for the playoffs, but Bob Monaghan's bad knee will keep him out of action.

Wednesday's game, which meant absolutely nothing in league standings, was played just that way.

Some 1,647 of the faithful turned up to see the Shamrocks amble casually down the floor

Antonelli Wins Duel From Newcombe

By the Associated Press
The Giants are not dead. They're in last place, all right, but, for the moment at least, they have shaken off that cellar pallor—reviving the somewhat tarnished world championship combination of Johnny Antonelli and Willie Mays to rock Brooklyn Dodgers out of second place in the tingling National League race.

The Brooks, who usually swallow southpaws whole like hors d'oeuvres, were standing on their heads when Antonelli got through with them, Wednesday night. He struck out 11 while giving just two hits to beat Brooklyn Dodgers out of second place in the tingling National League race.

Anty hadn't beaten the Brooks since June 30, 1954—and no southpaw had blanked them since Harvey Haddix, then with St. Louis, did it on June 9, 1954.

It also was the second upset in two nights against the world champs by the New Yorkers and skidded the Dodgers two percentage points behind Cincinnati. The Redlegs took two from Chicago Cubs, 4-3, in 15 innings and 7-3 in a six-inning nightcap called because of darkness.

BRVES BOOST LEAD

Milwaukee upped its lead to 2½ games up with a 4-1 decision over St. Louis. Pittsburgh slowed down Philadelphia Phillies 5-1.

In the American League, Dick Donovan threw a two-hitter as Chicago White Sox walloped Kansas City 10-0. The first-place New York Yankees moved into a 10½-game bulge again by defeating Boston 6-4 while Detroit knocked off second-place Cleveland 1-0. Baltimore beat Washington 3-2 in 12 innings.

Antonelli, who was 22-7 when the Giants won the 1954 world championship, gave up only a single to Duke Snider in the fourth and an eighth-inning double by Charlie Neal for his first complete game against Brooklyn and his 11th victory against 12 defeats.

Mays, whose home run beat the Dodgers 3-1 Tuesday, unloaded his big one in the fourth off Newcombe, who had won nine straight.

Wagner had his troubles Wednesday beating Dr. Merle Taylor, Portland, one-up. Two down on the 17th, Taylor sank a curling 25-foot putt for a birdie four to win the hole and stay alive, then mended a four-footer on the 18th to halve the hole and lose the match.

The other semifinal pits Ed Eisenhower, Tacoma, who has made a habit of getting into the final of the tournament, but has never won one, against medalist Bill Blakely of Portland.

Eisenhower edged by J. H. Edgell, Vancouver, while Blakely dumped defending champion Pete McIntyre, Trail, 3 and 2.

Olympic Team Short Of Necessary Funds

TORONTO (UP)—Canada might have to send an unduly small contingent to the Australian Olympics because of lagging support for the Olympic fund-raising campaign, Lloyd Percival, director of Sports College here, said Wednesday.

He said the Canadian Olympic Association is operating on a minimum budget and may be forced to drop up to 24 possible point-gathering Canadian athletes. The fund is $36,900 short of its $216,900 objective.

The track and field coach said he didn't want to criticize Canadians for donating several thousands of dollars to marathon swimmers. He said that what the Canadian people do with their money is their own business.

"But it doesn't make sense to spend that much on the swimmers when the people could channel some of the money into the Olympic fund, where it would enable athletes to bring so much more prestige to the nation," he said.

But schedules so necessary under the big top always were too confining for Satch. He just likes to up and go fishing when he feels like it.

Miami's a good spot for that, and the Rochester hitters will tell you that old Satch is pitching like a happy man. As he once said, "I may keep right on pitching until I'm 70."

He just might, too, the way he's going.

They figured he was in the twilight of his career when, after pitching an estimated 5,000 games, he signed with Cleveland in 1948. Satch had a 6-1 record and in 1951 went to the now extinct St. Louis Browns. He was 12-10 in 1952, at the age of 46, and proudly displayed his four-week-old son when he signed his 1953 contract.

There are some who figured that Satch could have been a winner and up in the big leagues.

Bob Gains Golf 16s

Fleming Lone B.C. Rep In Amateur; Norman Wins

EDMUNDSTON, N.B.—Perfect weather greeted the start of the third round of the Canadian Amateur golf championships here today as nine Canadians, including Victoria's Bob Fleming, faced a seven-man challenge from south of the border.

Fleming, B.C. Closed champion, advanced to the 16's Wednesday with two victories. He edged Bryan Copp of New Westminster, 1 up, and then, rolling in high gear with a new putter in his bag, scored a brilliant 3 and 2 triumph over Jack Penrose of Miami Beach, Fla.

Defending champion Moe Norman of Kitchener, Ont., joked his way through Wednesday's two rounds. After defeating Mike Pyke of Calgary, 7 and 6, Norman went into his act.

Playing against Dr. Alton Richardson of Waterville, Me., he was only two up when he switched from the conventional small tee to a giant-six-inch one. Then with a short grip on his driver, he got off booming drives.

Unruffled even when Dr. Richardson drew the applause of the gallery when he made a hole-in-one of the par three, 159-yard third, Norman with a wide grin congratulated the doctor, and then calmly went about regaining his lost ground with a birdie four on the 475-yard ninth.

Then, while waiting for the pair ahead of him to move down the fairway, he kept his gallery entertained as he stripped the grip off his driver, meticulously wrapped it back on and fastened it with a piece of tape. Incidentally he won the match 3 and 2.

Doug Sanders, the Canadian Open champion, faces Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N.Y., in his third round match today.

Counting Norman and Fleming, three of the remaining Canadians are members of the Ontario Willingdon Cup team that captured the inter-provincial title Tuesday and a fourth

Other second-round results follow:
John G. Miles, Mamaroneck, N.Y., defeated Dick Chapman, Oshkosh, Wis., 5 and 4.
Ted Lowery, Newington, Conn., defeated Robert W. Knowles Jr., Alton, N.S., 5 and 1.
Don Gardner, Winnipeg, defeated Andrew J. Gard, Newtonville, Mass., on the 20th.
Jack Lowery, St. Catharines, Ont., defeated F. W. Carmichael, Springfield, Ohio, 3 and 1.

Mrs. McIntire Upset Victim In Ladies' Golf

WINNIPEG (CP)—Five Americans and three Canadians, including defending champion Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., have entered the eighth of the Canadian women's open golf championship at Niagara Country Club.

Only upset of Wednesday's second round was Mary Patton Jansen's 3-and-2 victory over highly-regarded Barbara McIntire of Toledo, Ohio, co-medalist in the qualifying round here and runner-up in the recent U.S. Open.

Miss Jansen from Charlottesville, Va., runner-up this year in the British Amateur, meets Judy Bell of Wichita, Kan., in one half of the upper bracket of the draw while Pat Lesser of Seattle meets Canadian junior champion Betty Stanhope of Edmonton in the other.

In the lower bracket, it is Rae Milligan of Jasper, Alta., against Virginia Denney of Lake Forest, Ill., and Miss Stewart against Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore, Md.

Eighteen-hole play continues until Saturday when the 36-hole final will be played.

A 65-foot chip shot by Marlene Stewart for a tying eagle-three on the 14th kept Mary Gave of Kitchener from getting back in the battle against the defending champion. Miss Gave took the next hole on a birdie-three but she still was two down and the match ended on the 17th with Miss Stewart the winner 3 and 1.

RAE HAS IT TOUGH

Veteran Mrs. Graeme Pyke of Hudson, Que., carried co-medalist Rae Milligan to the 17th before bowing out 2 and 1. Miss Denney had too much experience for Donna Patton of Winnipeg, Manitoba junior champion, and walked off with a 5-and-4 triumph.

Mrs. Glick went four up on Janet MacWha of Montreal at the turn. The Canadian cut the margin to one by the 13th but Mrs. Glick got back on her game and won 2 and 1.

Miss Lesser carried a three-up lead into the back nine and ended her match with Shirley Woodley of Toronto on the 16th. Mrs. J. R. Jamison of Edmonton held Mrs. Bell even on the first nine but faded coming home and lost 4 and 2.

Long-hitting Miss Stanhope sidelined Roma Neundorff of Toronto on the 14th with a five and four win.

BABE'S WIFE CHEERS MICKEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Babe Ruth is keeping a close watch on Mickey Mantle's attempts to break her late husband's home-run record of 60 in a season. She is almost a daily visitor to the Yankee Stadium when the Yankees are at home.

When the slugging Yankee outfielder clouted his 42nd Tuesday night to go 13 games ahead of the Bambino's pace of 1927, Mrs. Ruth stood up and cheered as the Mick circled the bases.

Hotelmen Gain B.C. Playdowns

Gorge Hotel 6, Chinese Students 2

Gorge Hotel, qualifying with just the minimum of effort, are off to Vancouver Friday for the B.C. senior A softball championships.

Gorge, defending B.C. champions under the name of Fletchers, defeated Chinese Students, 6-2, Wednesday night at Central Park to win the best-of-five city softball championship, three to one.

It was their sixth straight league title.

Gorge will play its first game Friday night at 8:45 in Vancouver's Capilano Stadium against South Hill Athletic. Other teams in the tournament are Vancouver School Board, Castlegar and New Westminster.

Wednesday night, the Hotelmen had the game and the championship in control from the first inning. Ed Foychuck pitched a four-hitter for the victory, while Gorge picked up eight hits off three Student pitchers.

Flori Gogean, league batting champion, with two doubles, and Lex Wilson with a triple and a single, led the winners at the plate.

Lokomotiv Hard Pressed, But Still Win

CALGARY, Alta.—The Russian Lokomotiv touring soccer club, although hard pressed over most of the distance, scored a 6-4 victory over a Western Canadian all-star team in an exhibition match Wednesday night before some 8,500 fans.

The Lokomotiv gained a 3-0 bulge in the first 26 minutes of play, but the all-stars came charging back to make the count 3-2 at the half.

Yori Sokolov and Yuri Shishayev notched the others.

John Clifford of Vancouver, with two, and Bert Mozley of Calgary and Brian Philleary of Vancouver scored for the Canadians.

The second half was 14 minutes old when the Russians regained their three-goal margin as Kovalyov made it 5-2. Mozley put the all-stars back in the game when he blasted a free kick past Vladimir Vostrov, who took over from Vadim Kubytsky in goal in the second half.

Shishayev scored from close range to make it 6-3 for the Russians with six minutes remaining. Philleary scored the final tally for the all-stars three minutes before the end.

DESTROYER'S DEPTH CHARGE RUN THRILLS NAVY DAY THROG

Depth charge lobbed from HMCS Cayuga, frigate class destroyer, was one of visual highlights of Navy Day. Charge went off at 50-foot depth between buoys planted off Horseshoe bay. Crowd packed each pinpoint of land to see annual display close as possible. Cayuga dropped her depth charge during high-speed run of 31 knots, equivalent to 35 mph. THOUSANDS SEE SPECTACLE

Navy Show Biggest Yet

By TONY DICKASON and HUMPHRY DAVY

Close to 45,000 people jammed the waterfront of Beacon Hill park Wednesday for the biggest Navy Day ever held in the century since a British naval base was first established here.

Four-year-old Georgie Thomas summed it up.

"I liked the planes and the boats, and I had a ride on the ponies, too."

Small Georgie, who lives at 665 Niagara, was hanging on to his father's hand.

Said the weary father: "He's been back three times today."

This was Navy Day, biggest, bestest ever held here.

Mrs. Caroline Rhodes, a native of Darlington, England, said:

"I've never seen anything so thrilling since wartime."

From the moment Rear Admiral Hugh F. Pullen, Flag Officer, Pacific Coast, opened the celebrations, the show was packed with continuous thrilling events.

The evening "entertainment" fairly well duplicated that of the afternoon with a few exceptions. There was an evening concert, for example, by HMCS Naden Band.

Close to 1,000 persons sat and listened to the 40-minute concert of songs and marches.

"Public reaction was terrific," said PO Ralph Adolph, who played the sax.

Tired Jill Tars (navy wives) stood beside boxes of disposable diapers in the "Changing Station," a voluntary service provided for the infants.

Nearly 200 youngsters were changed, found, located, returned to parents and etcetera.

QUESTIONS, QUESTIONS

A trio of round-rigged sentries had themselves a ball.

Said one: "People ask the silliest questions, like the couple from the United States. They asked 'Are you in the navy?'"

At 6:30 p.m. the crowd was almost non-existent—home eating. But by 7:30 p.m. you could not turn around without bumping a body.

Chairman of the whole big wonderful show was reticent Captain Robert "please don't use my name" Welland.

"We call this 'Operation Shop Window,' and really want to express our most sincere gratitude to the local commercial firms who helped out in this."

Highlight—there were so many it was hard to select—was probably the jump from an RCAF helicopter by four navy frogmen. They tumbled out from a 20-foot height from the hovering whirlybird and swam ashore underwater from about 50 yards out.

Idea was to show how shore-side installations can be knocked out. They went to work on a model ship, and blew it to smithereens.

Frogmen, with breathing apparatus, can stay submerged up to two hours, and can drop into the water up to a mile away from the objective. They surface only momentarily, to get bearings.

During the "fire, fire, fire" when HMCS Cayuga's guns belched as navy Avenger aircraft roared in for a simulated attack, clouds of disturbed pigeons in the park rose, swirled, settled, and rose again as action continued.

Cayuga, which has steamed 42,000 miles in the last year under Cmdr. G. H. "Jeff" Davidson, put on a high-speed run for the gaping crowd and tossed out a depth charge.

Children laughed with delight at the navy's "crossing the line" ceremony which depicted what happens to sailors crossing the equator for the first time. They saw King Neptune scrub and dunk sailors in a large pool.

Equipment displays featured every phase of the navy from radar to equipment of the torpedo anti-submarine school.

One of the most popular displays was the sound equipment of the Pacific Naval Laboratory.

Technicians placed a mike in a cage filled with minnows and lowered it into the sea. The equipment on shore picked up the "clicking" sound of the crabs trying to get at the tiny fish.

FLARES DROPPED

During one off-shore demonstration five parachute flares were dropped from the zooming planes, and Cayuga's guns blazed away at them.

CF-100's made high speed runs over the crowd at low levels, in the last run coming close to the sound barrier; Lancasters, a trio of them, came over time and time again, port engines feathered.

HMCS Ontario and HMCS Crescent, ablaze with lights, poured out a 20-minute gorgeous fireworks display, biggest ever seen in Victoria.

It was a fine day, but the thing that will stick in many a mind was the lovely sight of the good ship Cayuga, heeling hard sport, white water cascading her hull, against a backdrop of the evening's deep purple sky.

SEA-GOING HUMORISTS

Lighter Touches Navy Day Feature

By DINAH KERR

Civilians, long-baffled by naval terms such as "secure the bulkhead" and "scupper," glanced at a naval "glossary" on the stern of a Navy Day display ship aground in Beacon Hill Park—and did a double-take. Sample definitions: Bilge pump, "ship's public address system"; ship's bell, "female stowaway"; superstructure, "42-26-38"; bulkhead, "stupid sailor"; secure the bulkhead, "throw the first mate in irons"; scupper, "expression used by first lieutenant with mouth full of cocoa when addressing the captain."

The display ship was brought from RCAF station, Comox, by 407 Maritime Squadron. It was named in honor of Canada's minister of defence production "HMCS Seedy How-Yawl."

One little girl, perched on her father's shoulder, watched entranced as a helicopter dropped a bevy of frogmen off-shore to demolish a model ship. "Are they going to swim the strait, daddy?" she asked.

King Neptune and his court melted out swift punishment to prisoners in the HMCS Ontario's "crossing-the-line" ceremony. Among offenders hauled before the throne was Captain Trash. "On your knees, boy," said the King.

In the supply depot tent a frosted cake model of HMCS Athabaskan, baked by Naden PO, Carl Monech, drew "oohs" and "aahs" from housewives. It stood alongside an elegant mess dinner complete with pink candles and place cards.

General stores department was among those lampooned by the navy. One large crate was tagged "Deliver to H. Nelson, HMS Victory. Deadline delivery date, Oct. 21, 1805."

Cook's display, with "every meal a banquet," also drew sympathetic laughter. There were two choices—"take it or leave it."

Also set aside for the kids was a large tent where RCN films—including Mickey Mouse, Elmer Fudd and Daffy Duck—were shown. There was a capacity audience all afternoon. A model train, the "Cute Noiseless Rocket," tooled young passengers around a blocked-off section of Dallas Road until nightfall. No fare was charged.

On the serious side of Navy Day was the chaplaincy service tent, where an altar was set up, and religious music played throughout the day.

Navy personnel were kept on the hop searching for "lost children and lost parents."

In the space of four hours 300 parents reported missing children. In some cases it was children requesting some assistance to find their parents.

The payoff came when a woman asked harassed officials to help her find her "lost dog."

The navy did its best to oblige.

WHAT COULD BE MORE APPROPRIATE during Navy Day than "a sea" of faces? Thousands upon thousands of people milled around Beacon Hill park navy displays and demonstrations in the greatest public-catching enterprise the RCN has ever put on in this old-time naval base.

BOY'S EYE VIEW OF RCN

Sailor-for-a-Day Steers Destroyer

Having 1,000 boys who were the navy's guests on a three-hour cruise to Juan de Fuca Strait Wednesday was Peter Sallaway, aged 10, who related his impressions to the Times.

By PETER SALLAWAY

Age 10

It was sure fun being a Sailor-for-a-Day aboard HMCS Sioux.

When I grew up I want to join the navy. I can't wait until I'm old enough to join the sea cadets.

We greatest thrill aboard the destroyer was being allowed to steer her. It sure was a lot different from steering my dad's fishing boat. When the wheelman tells you to turn port you have to turn the wheel all the way until it won't go any further.

After going aboard the Sioux we were welcomed by the commanding officer. He told us the ship was ours for the day.

Our first visit was to the mess hall where we ate our lunch. The sailors gave us jelly and milk.

Our group master took us to the bunk room where the sailors sleep. Some of the bunks were down. Sure wish I could have climbed into one. Then we visited the officers quarters and the galley where two cooks said hello.

We visited the radar room and watched the radar set and looked at a lot of other things. But I don't know what they were for. The radar set was turning in a circle and we went out on deck and watched it turning there.

While on deck we watched six porpoises. They would come up and go down again. Our group master told us they were playing.

Our group master then showed us the torpedoes. They were about 8 feet long. I was surprised they were painted orange and not blue like the ones in the parade.

While on deck I saw a sailor flashing a signal on the big light. When I asked our group master if he could tell us what the signals meant he told me he could only spell his own name. The shutter on the light reminded me of a venetian blind.

I also saw the rifles the sailors use. They were stacked in racks just like baseball bats at the ball park.

Boy, what a lot of flags the Sioux carries. All stacked in little holes. I was told each flag represents a letter and they are used for signaling.

I didn't go down to the engine room. Guess they figured we boys might fall and get hurt.

I had a good time and hope the navy will take us again next year.

JOHNNY GOT HIS GUN Tuesday, compliments of the RCN, and loved it. Boys literally swarmed over naval gun at Beacon Hill park, cranked it and climbed it, stroked it and shouted "bang, bang." Nobody was shot.

SMALL CORNER OF 2,000 YOUNGSTERS taken on cruise Wednesday by 10 vessels of RCN are shown here. Cruise was expected to last two hours, lasted three hours instead. If reaction of young men here is indicative, navy will have more recruits in years to come than taxpayers can feed. Boys had wonder-ful time; explored vessels literally from prow to stern; each had had a naval "guardian."

3 Licences, 1 Marriage; Refund Paid

Kenneth Avender of Burnaby, B.C., tried three times to get married and succeeded the third time.

He bought a marriage licence on April 18, 1955, but an auto accident led to postponement of the wedding and the licence expired July 18.

Avender bought another licence on Jan. 3, 1956. This time severe weather prevented the wedding as he could not leave his place of employment at 100-Mile House in the Cariboo. The second licence expired March 3.

Undaunted, Avender bought a third licence three months later and was finally married on June 1 at New Westminster.

Today the B.C. cabinet granted Avender a refund of money spent on licences which did not lead him to the altar.

GOING TO NEW ZEALAND

TRAIL—G. L. (Flip) Filippelli of Trail, national president of the junior chamber of commerce, leaves next month on a Jaycee tour which will take him as far as New Zealand. He will tour Canada, until November when he will go to New Zealand to attend the International Jaycee conference.

Sons, Daughters Of Russ Leaders In Wild Orgies

MOSCOW (AP)—The youth newspaper Komsomol-Pravda Wednesday accused sons of two Soviet cabinet ministers of drunken orgies with young daughters of high army, secret police (MVD) and air officers.

It said the girls committed burglaries to finance the young couples' riotous living in their parents' absence.

It was the most sensational personal scandal exposed since the Communist revolution.

The Soviet public read avidly the picture given by the paper of guided youth frolicking in luxurious city apartments while their prominent parents vacationed in luxurious dachas (country homes).

Although no post-war United States films have ever been shown here, the story charged that the youngsters had been influenced by American movies.

The youths were identified as Evgeny and Mikhail Kabanov, sons of "minister Kabanov," Sergei Petukhov, son of "a minister" Eriena Kuznetsova, daughter of a Red Army major-general; Alla Maximova, stepdaughter of an MVD lieutenant-colonel; and Tatyana Andreyeva, daughter of an air force colonel.

B.C., U.S. Politicians In Hot Fight for TV Time

B.C. and American political parties may well cause television station KVOSTV to change its signature melodies to "Buy Time Is Your Time" and "Cash Registers Are Tinkling in Bellingham," it was learned Wednesday.

When Premier W. A. C. Bennett called his "blitzkrieg" election for Sept. 19 last Monday night, some of B.C.'s political party spokesmen immediately began to inquire from Bellingham if Channel 12 would be open to them for campaign speeches.

A phone call this morning elicited the information that KVOSTV was ready, willing and able, promising comparable "good spots" to all.

SCHOOL RECORD LOOMS
VANCOUVER—Record enrolment is predicted for Vancouver schools when the 1955-56 term opens Sept. 5.

An estimated 53,500 pupils will attend the city's kindergarten, primary and secondary schools in the coming term, compared with 51,428 last term.

MOST USED CAR

at ROAF MOTORS LTD.

KVOSTV also will be selling time to American candidates who are competing in the Washington primary. The B.C. and Washington political campaigns take place roughly about the same time. However, KVOSTV intimated they would play no favorites.

Meanwhile, B.C.'s political leaders have met with CBC officials to discuss CBUT-TV time schedules. The CBC, a government-owned corporation, cannot sell time for political purposes. However, it can give it away under a policy that allows the various parties to work out their own times between themselves.

ST. LAURENT HOLIDAYS AT QUE. SUMMER HOME

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent left the capital Wednesday night for a holiday at his summer home at St. Patrice, Que., after a two-hour cabinet meeting to clean up post-session government business.

He plans to remain away from Ottawa until early in September and observers here say this is good evidence that there will be no general election this year. The speculation in Ottawa quarters is that the government will go to the country in June, 1957.

Anonymous Tip Leads to Safe

An anonymous phone call Wednesday night tipped location of a 400-pound safe which had been stolen from Nanaimo Realty offices in downtown Nanaimo over the weekend.

Owner Frank Ney said the anonymous male voice instructed the $200 reward offered to persons with information on locating the safe be given to charity.

He went to the location indictated by the caller, about five miles north of Nanaimo on a sideroad at Wellington, and found the safe off the side of the road in the bush, "wrecked," he said.

Money and cheques were missing, but most of the papers contained were believed intact. He could not estimate the amount of cash in the safe, but it was not a large sum, he said.

Mr. Ney spent considerable time running down false leads telephoned to him since he advertised the reward for information.

Police said the work appeared to be that of professionals since the safe was removed through a rear door without disturbing the office and its disappearance was unnoticed until Monday morning.

MONTREAL (UPI)—Coach Al Sherman, promising a "great deal better" show than that put on by the Dominion's champion Edmonton Eskimos, leads his Winnipeg Blue Bombers against the Montreal Alouettes in an exhibition game here tonight.

Nineteen imports will be out to fill the 12 jobs and Sherman said yesterday while running the team through a light drill he would "shoot the works" against Montreal.

Park Lights Asked As Vandalism Curb

Proposal to install lighting in city parks committee Wednesday. Beacon Hill Park to help combat vandalism was made before the city parks committee Wednesday by Ald. Robert Macmillan.

His suggestion followed the most recent outbreak of wanton destruction in the park in which 38 windows were smashed at the Lookout and a drinking fountain was pulled up.

Ald. Macmillan said this was an "excellent argument" for lighting the park and Dallas Road.

Six youths who later invaded an apartment building beside

ONE CUT

At least one of them is believed to have been cut on broken glass at the Lookout as a number of bloodied band-aids were found at the scene. Match folders from a downtown hotel and HMCS Stettler were also left behind.

Mayor Percy Scourrah warned that vandals caught damaging city parks will be dealt with "most severely".

The parks committee was also told Wednesday that life-saving equipment at Goodacre Lake in the park has been replaced five times this year as the result of vandalism.

SUNDAY STREET SWEEP VETOED IN PT. ALBERNI

PORT ALBERNI (CP)—Weekend street littering aroused a heated discussion about the sanctity of the Sabbath during a city council session Wednesday.

Ald. Jack Perry urged council to take steps to clean up city streets during the weekend. He pointed out that the mobile sweeper made its last trip of the week on Friday mornings.

When Ald. Norman Odgers suggested that work crews be summoned Sunday mornings to clean up, Mayor Loran Jordan protested that workers should not be called upon to work Sundays.

The two factions finally compromised. The sweeper will be operated from 12 p.m. Friday to 4 a.m. Saturday.

Reckless Drivers Facing Crackdown

Port Alberni Parents Win Support Of Council; Child Education Urged

PORT ALBERNI (CP)—A petition asking help from the city council in protecting children from fast and careless drivers was received Tuesday night from a group of Burde street residents.

A copy will be turned over to RCMP with a request for enforcement.

Ald. Jack Perry, agreeing that steps should be taken to curb reckless driving in the area, said safety education for parents and children was also in order.

He told of a child "no more than four years old" riding a triecyle on the street. He and another driver were forced to bring their vehicles to a halt until the youngster gave them the right of way.

Alfred William Stephenson, 75, a long-time district resident, was found dead in his room Wednesday.

A retired logging camp cook, he was a native of New South Wales, Australia. It is believed his only survivor is a daughter in England.

City council thinks municipal garbage trucks should receive free licences and registration.

A resolution supporting this was approved by council Wednesday for presentation to the Union of B.C. Municipalities. Council also approved an amendment to UBCM by-laws according voting privileges to past presidents of the Union holding municipal elective office.

City coffers were swelled by $1,690 through fines payable to the municipality during July, according to the RCMP report read at a council meeting Tuesday night.

There were eight convictions under municipal by-laws and 83 convictions under other statutes.

Plans have been made to submerge a pipeline across the mouth of the Somass River today.

The huge pipe will be a section of the line bringing water from Sproat Lake for use in the pulp and paper plant being built alongside the existing pulp mill of MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd.

Trustees Protest Date of Election

The provincial government was sharply rebuked by school board 62 (Sooke) for calling a provincial election at a time the B.C. School Trustees Association is holding its annual convention at Cranbrook in September.

The elections will be held on Sept. 19, at the same time as the convention.

Members of the board at a meeting Monday said trustees will be able to cast absentee votes, but won't be able to take an active part in the election.

The board passed a resolution requesting the school trustee association to "protest the lack of consideration shown by the provincial government in calling a provincial election at a time when so many public representatives are absent from their homes attending the BCSTA convention in the public interest."

The visit will begin in Saint John, N.B., Aug. 23, and end in Vancouver, Sept. 13. On Sept. 8 he is scheduled to make a flying visit to the Pacific Biological Station at Departure Bay, near Nanaimo.

RUSS MINISTER TO VISIT DEPARTURE BAY

OTTAWA (GP)—Russian Fisheries Minister Ishkov's three-week visit to Canada will include nine days of touring fisheries establishments on both coasts.

The visit will begin in Saint John, N.B., Aug. 23, and end in Vancouver, Sept. 13. On Sept. 8 he is scheduled to make a flying visit to the Pacific Biological Station at Departure Bay, near Nanaimo.

BETWEEN TIMES

By

MONTE ROBERTS

Because of yesterday's goings-on, I have been asked to tell all I know about the Navy.

Fortunately, I do not know much about the Navy, except it is a good thing.

One of the reasons the Navy is a good thing is because, when the Navy wishes to progress from one shore to another shore, it rarely attempts to do so by swimming.

The Navy has a quaint, old-fashioned notion that water is for floating ships on and mixing drinks with, not dunking in.

The Navy, in fact, rather resents water, because if it were not for water, the Navy could spend all its time ashore. However, faced as it is with water, the Navy does the best it can.

It sails all around and about in contrivances known to you and the as boats, but to the Navy as ships.

A ship is Home to the navy man, but it is not a Home with Rooms, Floors, Ceilings and Walls.

Instead, it has Flats, Decks, Overheads, and Bulkheads. (It has Knuckleheads, too, but we will not go into that.)

Also, instead of windows, a ship has small round openings which if you store your clothes in there you shouldn't have.

All Navy men have their own stations, the most popular of which is Panic.

If you intend to be a Navy man, you must learn where your Panic station is, and to know that, you must first learn which side of a ship is up.

This is the side opposite to the one which is down.

Frequently, it is hard to tell the difference, thus Panic Stations.

Also, there is a difference between one end of a ship and the other end. The sharp end up near the pilings is known as the bow, and the other known as the arrow. Commanding officers of Navy ships, when coming in to the jetty in reverse, are allowed a margin for arrow.

Most of them take advantage of it.

Navy ships carry boats. Boats carried on Navy ships are equipped with thwarts, all sorts of thwarts.

All Navy ships have a forecastle, although few have a onecastle, twocastle, or threecastle.

The head of a Navy-ship is not necessarily the commanding officer.

All Navy ships have a bridge, as they are built under contract. Cost plus.

They also have a stem, because without a stem, how could the duty watch clean the ships from stem to gudgeon?

There are various ranks in the Navy, including Able Bodied (mmm... MMM!) Seaman and Leading (did you ever meet one who wasn't?) Seaman.

The other ranks don't matter too much, because who can tell the difference between an OS and a Vice-Admiral?

(Answer: The OS can.)

This, fortunately, is all I know about the Navy. In fact, I haven't a clue.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Esquimalt council will not hold a regular meeting until Sept. 10, unless a meeting is called by acting reeve, Councillor J. E. Carey. Reeve A. C. Wurtele will leave Aug. 25 for holiday in Banff, and Councillor Carey has been appointed acting reeve in his absence.

Running out on to the road between parked cars brought seven-year-old Elizabeth Robinson, 1157 View, in collision with a car Wednesday.

She was in good condition in St. Joseph's Hospital today with head lacerations, a cut wrist and abrasions to her right arm and leg. Police said the driver of the car was Mona S. Huntley, 158 Sims.

Appointment of Lily Primrose as sub-mining recorder for all mining divisions in British Columbia with offices in Victoria was approved Wednesday by the B.C. cabinet.

Another summer of supervised fun will end for youngsters of Broadmead Park Friday at 7 p.m. Supervisor Miss Lois Walker and her assistant, Mrs. Margaret Wolters have planned novelty events, a cheerleaders display, and projects display and gymnastic exhibition for the closing ceremonies.

Associated Credit Bureaus of British Columbia will hold their fifth annual meeting September 9-12 at Maple Bay Lodge, near Duncan.

Panel discussions for credit granters will be included in the program.

FRIDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Lions: Empress Hotel, luncheon at noon. Subject of speaker Andy Anderson will be "Is Music a Profession or a Hobby?"

Capital City Commercial Club: Pacific Club luncheon at noon.

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks has appointed Waldo Skilling, Victoria, chairman of a conciliation board to resolve a dispute between Acme Press Ltd. and four other printing firms, and Victoria Typographical Union, local 201.

The union wants a wage increase and changes in contract covering holidays, sick leave 2%, overtime for about 20 printers.

Hugh Lance, Vancouver, is employers' nominee and R. P. Jeffries, Vancouver, employees' nominee.

Roderick Graff, 1613 Belmont was remanded to Aug. 30 to set a date for preliminary hearing of a charge of manslaughter when he appeared in city police court today.

Graff is charged in the death July 14 of Reginald Minihinnick, 68, eight days after a car-bicycle collision at Bay and Blanchard.

Applications for a conciliation officer has been made by Victoria General Teamsters' Union in its dispute with major cartage firms in the city.

Truckers rejected an offer of cents an hour spread over two years and demand an across the board increase in wages from the basic $1.55 an hour, plus an additional paid statutory holiday to make a total of nine, and time and a half pay for Saturday after-noon work.

Werner A. Marte, 1303 Carnesew, who pleaded not guilty through an interpreter to a charge of careless driving, was convicted by Magistrate A. I. Thomas in city police court today and fined $35.

Marje, a body repairman at Roat Motors, testified he understood, at the scene of the accident and Belleville July 31, to repair the other car.

He did not have insurance, he stated.

Victoria branch of War Amputations of Canada is continuing its campaign for funds to construct a memorial centre here for its membership on the Island.

A 1956 model car is being offered through ticket sales handled by amputees at car lots around town. The prize will move from lot to lot over a period of several days.

Tickets may also be obtained at Hudson's Bay Co., Roat Motors Ltd., and from Aug. 17-25 at Eaton's.

Boys between the age of 11 and 16 interested in joining the Saanich Police Boys' Club have been invited to fill out application forms.

Club president, juvenile officer Harry Adams, said today the program of sports and organized activities will begin Sept. 8.

The club has grown in size from nine members when it was formed last spring to 161 and now is looking for a clubhouse.

Arne Olavsen, 108 Helmcken, who admitted going through a red light at Government and Fisgard before hitting another car, was fined $35 in city police court today for careless driving.

"It was all my fault," he told officers at the accident scene Aug. 4.

Philip Fleming, Victoria, is named chairman of a conciliation board to settle a dispute between firms belonging to Victoria Electrical Contractors' Association and local 230, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

About 80 construction wiremen ask a wage boost plus pay for statutory holidays.

Employees' nominee to the board is Herb Flesher, Vancouver, and for employers is D. E. Smith, Victoria.

PROBE FRIDAY IN DEATH OF MILLHAND

An inquest will be held at 10 a.m. Friday into the death early Wednesday of 35-year-old millworker Gordon Cecil Christian in a motorcycle crash.

The inquest will be directed by coroner Dr. E. C. Hart at Thomson's Funeral Home. The funeral is expected to be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Christian died instantly from severe head injuries suffered when his motorcycle missed the corner at Gorge and Harriet and crashed into a cement wall at the San Sebastian Auto Court.

Big Ben Plans Double-Bitted Strait Attack

Ben Laughren will burn the swim candle at both ends this weekend as he renews his pitched battle with the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Laughren, who has proved conclusively his imperviousness to the cold water of the strait, plans to make two new assaults, one from each side of the strait.

On Friday morning at 3 a.m., Laughren will take off from the Breakwater to test a new theory of navigation devised by pilot Stan Page.

If the theory appears to be working, Laughren will continue on his way to Port Angeles. However if things don't go right, Laughren will leave the water immediately and save himself for a swim from Port Angeles on Sunday morning.

FOURTH ENTRY

Officials of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce have announced that they have received the fourth official entry for their $6,000 mass Strait race, Aug. 26.

William Goll, Landing, N.J., a 39-year-old veteran of Atlantic City and Lake Ontario swims, wrote swim officials that he would leave for Victoria, Aug. 17.

Florence Chadwick, one-time queen of the marathoners, notified swim officials that she regretted she would be unable to compete in the swim this year, following doctor's orders. She hoped to return to Victoria next year for another strait bid.

Launching Ramp

Permission of Canadian National Railways will be sought by the city parks committee to construct a small boat launching ramp across railway tracks at the foot of St. Lawrence Street.

Proposed launching ramp is slated for development in 1957, administrator W. H. Warren said. It would allow boats to enter the water at the mouth of the harbor, between Victoria Machinery Depot Yard 2 and Ogden Point Docks.

Alternative site is at Clover Point in Ross Bay.

Deadline Nears For Entries in Elk-Beaver Swim

Officials of the second annual Beaver-Elk Lake Labor Day swim are anxious to have as many swimmers in the water in the one day of their event as the Strait of Juan de Fuca has had in the last two years.

One of the highlights of the Saanich Golden Jubilee celebrations, the big lake event features a two-mile race from Elk Lake to Beaver Lake, as well as diving competitions for youngsters in age groups from 11 to 19.

In the big swim, won last year by Douglas Dickie in 55 1/2 minutes, there will be three age classes: 11, 12 and 13 years; 14, 15 and 16 years; and 17, 18 and 19 years. Two classes will be open for divers: 17, 18 and 19 years, and under 16 years.

There will be cups and prizes for all runners-up. Sprint races, novelty swims and other exhibitions are expected to fill out the aquatic program.

All prospective swimmers are reminded that an entry form, signed by parents, must be in the hands of the swim committee by Aug. 20.

Entry forms can be picked up at Beaver Lake, Lakeside Tea Rooms, or by contacting Will Sadler, 9-4131.

B.C. in Uproar Over Chaos In Registration

Loss of Votes 'Scandalous'

Premier Bennett's calling of a Sept. 19 election with next Tuesday the deadline for registration of voters has brought an angry reaction from organizations and Opposition members in British Columbia.

At Nelson, Randolph Harding, CCF MLA, Kaslo-Slocan, said registration of voters in his riding is the "most inefficient and scandalous thing I've ever seen."

He said he believes "hundreds" of names will not get on the list by Tuesday.

Mr. Harding also said no deputy registrar had been appointed by Wednesday evening "to see that Doukhobors, who now are eligible to vote, be given a chance to exercise their franchise."

He said also "It is a shameful thing to call an election without making the necessary preparations for all British Columbians to vote, regardless of political party."

PERSONAL CANVASS

In Victoria, former CCF MLA Frank Snowsall said he has found evidence that it will be impossible to complete voters' registrations by next Tuesday.

In a personal canvass of three blocks close to his home at 480 Marigold, Wednesday night, he collected 13 registrations in an hour and a half, Mr. Snowsall said.

"I was not canvassing them for my party," he said. "I just wanted to be sure they would have a vote."

"The system is in a state of chaos," he said.

After receiving a complaint from N. P. Finemore of 550 Agnes, who came here from Edmonton three years ago, that Strawberry Vale hall registration centre was locked up, Mr. Snowsall found it will remain closed.

Persons in that area wishing to get their names on the list should go to the Women's Institute Hall on Wilkinson Road at Roy Road.

Mr. Snowsall was supported by Liberal Leader Arthur Laing who said he is convinced the registration of voters cannot be completed.

"There are isolated areas of Vancouver Island and the Mainland which cannot possibly be reached by next Tuesday. This means that hundreds of out-of-town voters will be disfranchised. It is an impossible situation—an undemocratic way of conducting an election."

Denunciation of the premier's "blitzkrieg" tactics was also voiced at the inaugural meeting Wednesday of Victoria Labor Council.

Premier Bennett, however, rejected the suggestion that it will be impossible to enumerate all eligible voters in B.C. in time for the provincial election.

He said he had no power to extend the close of registrations after next Tuesday evening. The premier shook his head when told that at least 10,000 persons in the four Greater Victoria ridings will be unable to vote unless they register before Tuesday.

"Everyone has had plenty of time," he said. "We keep a perpetual voters list and any person who voted last time is automatically on it. The list is never closed. Even the loggers in distant places have had three years to get on the list."

"As for new arrivals, they are not entitled to vote unless they have been in the province six months."

'BLACK MONSTER' TO STAY IN YOUTH'S BEDROOM

Walt Was So Right—It Was a Cannon Ball

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

A 12-year-old boy in short pants cycled up to the stately Legislative Buildings Wednesday afternoon, carrying a 15-pound cannon ball.

It would have been too heavy for most cyclists—not for husky, blue-eyed Walt Smith of 41 South Turner, Victoria.

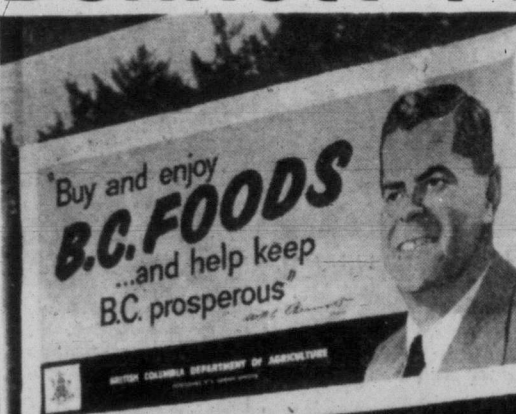

Walt skillfully navigated his bicycle up to the front steps of the Buildings, balancing the cannon ball on the crossbar. Then, dismounting with difficulty, he trudged up to the inquiry office and showed his heavy iron prize to the commissioners who greet visitors to the Buildings.

Commissionaire Mort Dundas directed Walt to the Provincial Museum. There he learned that the cannon ball he found at Miracle Beach, near Courtenay, last week was indeed a cannon ball (as he believed), and had probably been fired from a British battleship more than 100 years ago—perhaps to scare a band of Vancouver Island Indians who were giving trouble.

Walt did not offer to bequeath his prize to the museum as a gift to posterity.

"I want to keep it—for the present at least," he said. "I think I'll put it on a shelf in my bedroom."

ELECTION NOTES

T. C. Douglas, CCF premier of Saskatchewan, hopes to return the visit made to his province by Premier Bennett during the Saskatchewan election. In Regina today Mr. Douglas said he would like to speak in B.C. during the election campaign, as Mr. Bennett spoke in his (B.C. and Alberta) Social Credit ministers were criticized for taking part in the Saskatchewan election.

National Social leader Solon Low may also speak here during the campaigning. He was already billed to visit the west coast this fall.

George Gregory, Liberal MLA for Victoria city, is considered a certainty for renomination in the Sept. 19 election.

Capt. D. J. Proudfoot says he will let his name stand for one of the three Liberal nominations and Logan Mayhew is expected to be another candidate.

Mayor Earle Westwood of Nanaimo will carry the banner for Social Credit in the battle to secure the seat for Nanaimo and the Islands, now held by Independent Dr. Larry Giovando. Walter Tickson, a logger, has been named by the Labor Progressive party. Liberals and CCF have still to nominate candidates.

Dr. Giovando has said he may not run again.

Tally-ho operator Arthur Knapp is seeking the Social Credit nomination to contest the Oak Bay seat held by Liberal P. A. Gibbs.

Other Social Crediters standing in Oak Bay are former Victoria mayor Claude L. Harrison, who was defeated in his bid to win nomination in Victoria city; Mrs. Vera Pipes, former president of the B.C. Social Credit women's auxiliary; Kenneth Oliver, president of Oak Bay Soccer Association; Kenneth C. Murphy, Victoria barrister, and C. T. Overman, part owner of the Saanich Peninsula and Gulf Islands Review.

Nominating convention will be held Monday.

Alberni CCF Association meets in Port Alberni next Wednesday to select a candidate for the coming election. Sitting member John Squire said he will accept nomination if it is offered.

Reeve Arthur Ash, former Liberal MLA for Saanich, said today he will not seek nomination as a Saanich candidate for the September provincial elections.

"I have been asked by citizens to run as a candidate," he said, "but I feel I have an obligation and duty to the ratepayers of Saanich, who elected me as reeve for a two-year term."

Saanich CCF nominating convention will be held in the CCF hall, Douglas street, at 8 p.m. Friday.

Former CCF MLA Frank Snowsall is seeking nomination to contest the seat formerly held by John Tisdalle for Social Credit.

Two other CCFers are in the running—Bert H. Johns, provincial council delegate for Saanich CCF Association, and John W. Windsor, blind councillor for West Saanich.

'No Political Preferences,' Say Officials

"Buy B.C. Food" posters carrying a large photograph of Premier W. A. C. Bennett, which have been on display in many store windows for the past 10 days, are being removed today.

Store officials indicated the placards are being taken down because of Monday's announcement of a provincial election.

They feared the posters might indicate a political preference on the part of their stores.

About one-third of the poster space is devoted to the photograph.

They were distributed to super-markets by their head offices in Vancouver about two weeks ago, before Premier Bennett announced the coming election.

SERVED PURPOSE

Several Super-Valu stores here have had the posters in their windows, but Colin Stewart, B.C. supervisor for Super-Valu, said today "possibly they have served their purpose. We displayed them as part of the general campaign to help sell B.C. products, and I believe they have been up long enough. We are going to take them down."

Canada Safeway Ltd. stores here received the posters from the head office in Vancouver about two weeks ago. Due to other merchandising commitments, only the Fort Street store displayed the poster in the window.

It is now unlikely the other stores will use them.

G. C. Anselmo, Vancouver Island supervisor, said today he was going to contact head office for instructions.

HANDS OFF

"Naturally, Safeway has no political interests whatsoever, and we do not wish to be involved in any way. It might be wiser not to display the posters."

The posters, part of a $100,000 provincial campaign of agriculture to publicize B.C. foods, were not distributed to smaller stores.

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hamilton, 1950 Ash street, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Patricia, to Mr. Douglas Edward Campbell, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, 2341 Blanshard street. The wedding will take place quietly in the chapel of St. John's Anglican Church, Sept. 8 at 1.30 p.m. with Rev. C. W. Downer officiating. The bride-elect will have Miss Bernice Eskola, Port Alberni, as bridesmaid. Mr. Lloyd McBratney will be the best man. The groom-elect is a graduate in Commerce from the University of British Columbia.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The Way We Walk Deserves Attention

We take walking for granted but it is really a most complicated operation. Few women give serious thought to the way they walk although how they walk and stand makes such a great difference in their figures, their grace, and even in their energy.

A beautiful walk is like a song and good posture improves the figure tremendously. No matter how slim you are, if your abdomen protrudes, your bust rests on your ribs, your shoulders are rounded and your neck sticks out forward, your silhouette is not going to be attractive. You can actually decrease your waist measurement and increase your bust measurement simply by improving your posture.

Now let us think of the manner in which we weave our way along. Do not throw your weight from side to side!

Poor posture and incorrect walking place a strain on the muscles and ligaments and cause us to become tired. Sway back makes the hips appear out of proportion. Rigid knees make the walk jerky.

Step forward, placing one foot in front of the other. Keep the knees relaxed. Do not overextend them. Your heel strikes the floor first. After that the weight should move along the outer sides of the feet and onto the toe. Give yourself a gentle pushoff from your toes.

Practice this: Stand with your back toward the wall and your heels and the back of your head touching the wall. Now try to touch as much of your back to the wall as possible. In order to do this you will have to pull your abdomen in and tuck your hips under. Bend the knees very slightly. Now push away from the wall. This will seem queer at first and will be a bit exaggerated but it will give you the general idea.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 57 "Grace and Charm," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

ORANGE CARROTS

Hot, freshly-cooked B.C. carrots, 1/2 cup orange juice, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Mix together all ingredients, except carrots. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Pour over carrots. Serve hot. Makes enough sauce for four servings.

Digging Into Savings Can Be Good Business

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Living within one's means is a policy that should be followed by anyone who wants to be successful in life. However, there are times when spending more than seems justified, or even digging into savings, is wise. That is what I pointed out to the wife who complained:

(Q)—"Ever since we were married, nearly 16 years ago, we have lived according to a strict budget and have never been in debt. In fact, we have saved enough to send our two children to college when they are old enough to go. However, during this past winter, my husband joined a businessmen's club and has been very active, attending all the meetings and serving on some of the committees. This has meant money for dues, for dinners, new clothes, outings with golf and drinks, and even entertaining the members of his committees.

"These expenses have gone beyond our budget and my husband has drawn on our savings to pay them. I object to this and have urged him to resign from the club. Am I being selfish about this? I know my husband enjoys his contacts with the men and would hate to give them up."—Mrs. W.S.

(A)—I think you are both selfish and shortsighted to ask your husband to resign from this club. Instead, you should be urging him to continue his membership and should encourage him to take as active a part in the work of the club as he can without seeming to be "pushy."

The money spent for this will, in time, be more than repaid. I can assure you. It is not splurging to do what your husband is doing but it is good, common business sense. Through these personal contacts with other businessmen, your husband is establishing himself as one of the business leaders of the community and this can readily lead to better business and more income for him.

It is always good business for a man to entertain his business associates. But, he should not skimp here. Urge your husband to entertain well, when he does entertain, and see that the food is the best he can offer, whether at your home or in a restaurant. This will impress his business associates and create in their minds the idea that he is a "big shot" in the business world.

Busy Life Encompasses Many Phases of Work

MONTREAL (CP)—Harriet Thomson, 23-year-old student, admits the last two years of her life have been "fairly busy" ones for her, but explains: "I like to keep occupied."

Miss Thomson recently returned to her home in Baie d'Urfe, near Montreal, after:

Graduating with honors from the University of Toronto;

Obtaining a bachelor of arts degree at Cambridge University in England;

Organizing and serving as second vice-president of the Cambridge Women's Union;

Becoming the first woman undergraduate to speak in the presidential debate of the Cambridge Union;

Touring Europe on a motor-scooter;

Appearing in several college plays;

And becoming engaged.

Miss Thomson returns to

Cambridge this month to take a course in sun radiation. She is to be married in October to Raymond Turner, a South African student she met at the university.

Between Ourselves

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Last weekend I met Winnie and Bill Van Norman. A young couple who love the outdoors.

They live in a wooded acreage of arbutus and fir trees on high land above a wide sandy beach near Parkville. Their attractive home is made of logs. There's green grass and flowers around it and garden chairs and a table under the trees.

Bessie

There are two small daughters, too, seven and four. Their young eyes seek out for you the flash of a hummingbird's wings, the tiny woodland flowers and even smaller shells on the edge of the sands.

Add to this a four-star guest cottage of logs, attractively furnished and with all the comforts of home and you have a setting it would be hard to beat.

Don't run away with idea that this scene just happened. Winnie and Bill Van Norman have worked for it. Long, hard hours. Early and late.

"We've loved every minute of it," they tell you. And looking at their sun-bronzed skins, their clear eyes and their happy smiles, you know they mean every word of that.

They first saw their woodland and their sea view on an October day 10 years ago. Bill was just out of the air force after a hitch that had taken him to Europe and many places in Canada during the war years. He and Winnie were married during the war and she had gone with him to bases "from here to Jericho" as she puts it with a warm, friendly laugh.

They were both tired of moving from place to place. They wanted to dig in somewhere and stay. It was at that moment they heard of the place near Parkville.

"There was no road in then," Winnie tells you, "and we hacked our way through the bush to get here." "It was a bright October day," Bill remembers, "the sea was blue, the sandbar stretched out for yards and across on the mainland the mountains were so clear we almost thought we could touch them."

They Were Modern-Day Pioneers

The young couple were sold on the spot... and they bought. Then came the rough part. They pitched a tent and started to clear land. They cooked over an open fire. "I even made bread in a frying pan," Winnie reminisces.

As good straight trees were felled, they peeled them and left them to weather. Finally the spot was ready for their home and they started to build. Side by side, they worked and gradually the cottage took shape. Then came the garden... and finally the guest cottage.

"We've had a lot of fun doing it," Winnie says, and Bill adds, "Sometimes we look back and think of those days when we had nothing but a tent and they look pretty good."

Pride shines in their eyes as they look around at their home under the trees and they both tell you... "It's a good life... it's paying off for us with the children... we wouldn't want anything else. Out here it's so peaceful. You forget all the turmoil and the strife and you only remember that it's a good world, after all."

Itchy feet? Of course, they have 'em, every once in a while. "Especially in the spring," Bill tells you. "Then we pack up and go off for a few weeks. We see the bright lights, dance a bit, sleep late and stay up late. Then we come back satisfied that there's nothing to beat the life up here."

Believe me, a weekend with Winnie and Bill Van Norman: sitting in the garden chairs under the trees; watching the sun set over the small islands; seeing the lights of campfires twinkling in the smudge of early twilight; talking quietly of their work in the past and their plans for the future, gives you a renewed faith in the world and the people in it!

Newlyweds Now Living In Home at Princeton

Rings and vows were exchanged by Patricia Marina Dickinson and Kenneth Beaumont in Central Baptist Church last Saturday evening. Dr. J. B. Rowell conducted the wedding ceremony for the daughter of Cmdr. and Mrs. E. R. S. Dickinson, 1282 Richardson Street, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Beaumont, 1620 Midgard Avenue.

White baskets of gladioli and gypsophila were placed at the front of the church and wedding music was played by the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. C. Dickinson. During the signing of the register, "A Wedding Prayer" was sung by Kenneth Richards.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of tiered white net over tulle, with hooped skirt sweeping into a semi-train. The fitted, lace top was styled with sweetheart neckline. Her only jewelry was a locket, gift of the groom, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and mixed white flowers in cascading design.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Hampton, sister of the bride, wore a gown of grey-blue bengaline styled with fitted bodice and gathered, tiered skirt. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink and white sweet peas and snapdragons.

Bridesmaid, Miss Mary Dickinson, wore pink bengaline in a gown similarly styled to the one worn by the matron of honor. She carried a bouquet of pastel sweet peas and snapdragons.

Miss Jill Hampton was flower girl, wearing a frock of pink flocked nylon and carrying a basket of sweet peas and snapdragons.

A Culture Program In Playground Trailer

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—The Trail Athletic Association is sending a special trailer around its playgrounds to help develop children materially as well as physically. The trailer contains instructional units to help children learn basket weaving, metal etching and plaster moulding. A culture program is to be started next year, including a mobile stage and drama unit and a library.

Glaring Faults

Sun glare, off the water or a windshield, causes fine lines around the eyes—often gives you a headache. To prevent the first—keep a delicate eye cream on your lids all day. For the second—speedy relief and pleasant refreshment in a Bromo-Seltzer.

Your young children will agree that a dessert of canned cling peach slices accompanied by a few animal crackers is just about the best dessert on record.

Sisters Attend Bride Of Victorian at Lumby

Given in marriage by her elder brother and attended by her two sisters, Miss Isabella Gladys LeBlanc became the bride of Desmond Joseph Cavin in Sacred Heart Church, Lumby, B.C., Saturday.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Rita LeBlanc, Lumby, and the late Mr. Cleophas LeBlanc, and her groom is son of Capt. and Mrs. E. M. Cavin, 241 Montreal street, Victoria. Father M. O'Reilly conducted the service in a setting of white gladioli. Organ music was played by Mrs. M. Ahrens. During signing of the register, Mrs. A. Murphy sang "Ave Maria."

A gown of white lace over satin fashioned with strapless bodice of lace, fitted to the hip, from which swept a bouffant skirt in tiers of lace and nylon tulle, was worn by the bride. Her fitted lace bolero with pearls etching the tiny collar, was worn over the bodice and a chapel veil misted from her crown of seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book mounted with crimson carnations. Peter LeBlanc gave her in marriage.

Bridesmaid Miss Denise LeBlanc and bridesmatron Mrs. F. Fellingham wore gowns of nylon lace and net with bolero jackets in yellow and blue, respectively. They wore matching nylon net headresses and carried bouquets of gladioli in shades of mauve and pink, respectively.

Brother of the groom, Gerald Cavin, Victoria, was best man.

For a honeymoon in Banff, Calgary and the Kootenays, before coming to Victoria to live, the bride donned a white linen suit with navy fleck, and pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Mary Lean, age 11, of Toronto, Ont., for her question:

How Do Flowers Make Their Perfume?

Every fragrant plant has its own recipe for making perfume. There is a vast difference between the recipe used by the rose and the violet. In fact, no two flower fragrances are alike. However, all the various perfumes are made from the same basic ingredients. They are plant sugars made by green leaves and chemicals from the soil.

The whole plant is built of these ingredients. The process begins with photosynthesis—the sunlight recipe. Green chlorophyll works to make sugar from air, water and sunshine. Every green leaf does this through all the daylight hours. But so far, we have been unable to learn the secret recipe.

Sugar-making stops when the sun goes down. The plants get busy processing the sugars into other substances. Some interact with the chemicals toted up from the soil by the sap. Some of the substances are very complex.

Cellulose is made for the building of woody cells. Some sugar is converted into starch for storage. Some is converted into fats and proteins, often to supply seeds with concentrated food. Even colors are manufactured from plant sugars and chemicals in the soil. For a flower must be gaily dressed.

Many flowers add perfume to their good grooming. The perfume, too, is made from plant sugar and chemicals from the soil. The perfumes are very complex substances in the form of special oils. The oils are called volatile or ethereal, which means that they evaporate easily. This is necessary to spread the flower fragrance into the air.

It is also necessary to keep the precious perfume oils from evaporating too fast. For this reason, they are kept in special cells called perfume sacs. In the rose, the perfume sacs are scattered throughout the delicate tissues of the petals. Rose perfume is a delicate blend of three different groups of substances.

Other plants carry pockets of fragrance in their leaves, stems, roots, bark, fruit peels and even seed pods. Each uses a different recipe which makes its perfume unique in the plant kingdom.

The number of different plant fragrances in the world is countless. Each is a perfect and original blend of simple ingredients. But so far we have been unable to figure out the recipes for only a very few of them.

Andy sends a Hammond Nature Atlas of America to Martha Adams, age seven, of Charleston, W. Va., for her question:

What is the difference between a donkey and a mule?

The donkey race is a special breed of the noble horse family. He has carried man's burdens for countless ages—though often under protest. Man has not been too kind to this little horse with the big ears. He is a sturdy fellow, sure-footed and content with rough rations. We tend to forget his good qualities and remember only that he sometimes refuses to be pushed.

The mule is a hybrid animal, a cross between a donkey and a horse. We cannot call a mule a he or a she, for mules very rarely can have foals. Usually a mule's mother is a horse, the father is a donkey. When the mother is a donkey and the father a horse, the mule is sometimes called a hinney. Sometimes a hinney can have foals.

Her foals are like all mules. They are strong, sturdy, patient and sure-footed. Also like all mules, they inherit some of the firm-mindedness of the donkey.

CLC Selects Winnipeg For Parley

OTTAWA (CP)—The executive council of the Canadian Labor Congress decided Tuesday to hold the CLC's second convention in Winnipeg in 1958.

This was expected to jar Vancouver labor men, who made a strong pitch for the convention.

An announcement after a two-day closed meeting of the 16-member CLC executive council said Mahoney, 39, was chosen unanimously to succeed C. H. Millard, Canadian director of the steel union, as one of the CLC's 13 vice-presidents.

Millard is leaving to become organization director for the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.

CHICAGO (BUP)—Lou Radzenda, president of the National Boxing Association, said today the NBA will recognize the winner of the forthcoming Archie Moore-Floyd Patterson battle as the heavy-weight champion.

Warren Asks Capital Board Take Over Mt. Douglas Park

City parks administrator Herb Warren recommended to the parks committee Wednesday that Mount Douglas Park be turned over to the jurisdiction of Capital District Improvement Commission.

He told the committee the park has been neglected during the last few years and funds of the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee, the present governing body, are insufficient to provide necessary improvements.

Parks committee members decided to refer his suggestion to Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee for their consideration and suggestions.

BUT MODEST START PLANNED

Nothing 'Small Town' About New TV Station

By PHIL LEE
Times TV Editor

Although it may have to start modestly enough, there's going to be nothing "small town" about Victoria's television station, CHEK-TV, it was learned today.

Programming discussions currently being carried out between CHEK-TV manager Charles R. White and the CBC are in the "hush hush" category, but word reached the Times that Channel 6 is in a position to bring in live-the-favorite Friday night fights, once the microwave cable reaches Vancouver from eastern Canada.

This is based on the fact that eastern Canada networks are already carrying the fights and, as a CBC affiliate, CHEK-TV will be able to pipe them into Victoria.

But the fights—still 18 months away—are but only one of the top-drawer American shows planned to be carried by CHEK-TV. As soon as the station commences telecasting this October it is expected that many of the U.S. programs now carried by CBUT, Vancouver, will be seen here via the local outlet.

But this, too, is only the beginning.

ONEWAY THIS YEAR
Some time ago it was reported by the Times that a two-way microwave link would join the Capital City with the mainland. This was confirmed Wednesday.

Pirie to Seek Double At Melbourne Olympics

LONDON (AP) — Gordon Pirie, four minute miler, Brian Hewson, Mrs. Dorothy Tyler, 36, who has two sons, Mrs. Paul in the 100 and 200 metres and Mrs. Tyler in the 400 metres and Mrs. Tyler in the 800 metres, Wednesday was picked to try for a 5,000 and 10,000 double in the Olympic Games at Melbourne.

The 25-year-old paint salesman had hoped to try for a triple, including the 1,500 metres, but the selectors of the British Olympic track and field squad apparently considered that would be too much of a task for even the stout-hearted Pirie.

Pirie celebrated his selection for the 5,000 and 10,000 metre Olympic events Wednesday by clocking the fastest time this year for two miles.

Running at an international track meet here, 25-year-old Pirie was timed in eight minutes, 42.6 seconds. The world record, held by Hungarian Sándor Iharos, is eight minutes, 33.4 seconds.

A total of 50 stars, 39 men and 11 women, were named for Britain's largest travelling Olympic track and field squad.

Two men who have broken the four-minute mile, Chris Chataway and Geoff Derek Hobson, were chosen with Pirie for the 5,000.

The 1,500 trio includes one sub-

Trunk Sewer Hookup Studied For Kincer Street

Estimates are being prepared on the cost of pumping effluent from the Kincer Street sewer tank to the northwest trunk sewer, to combat pollution at Kincer beach, Esquimalt municipal engineer John Graeme said Wednesday.

Solids clogging the septic tank have been pumped out at a cost of $600. But because 230 homes empty into the tank, pollution of the bay, as far as swimming is concerned, will not be improved, he said.

The municipal works department also is continuing investigations into the "feasibility of chlorinating the effluent."

BEAT IT TRAILERITES

Peripatetic Homes Banned by Ottawa

By ROY LABERGE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) — Life in a trailer is far from carefree in Canada's capital where authorities keep the homes-on-wheels from settling permanently.

Ottawa and Hull, Que., across the Ottawa River, have health by-laws which prohibit trailer dwelling. Hull authorities say they have had no occasion tooust mobile home dwellers, but Ottawa city officials say they do not hesitate to chase or prosecute trailer residents who do not move on when ordered.

The two townships which surround the capital city—Gloucester on the east and Nepean on the west—have strictly-enforced by-laws forbidding trailer dwellers to stay more than 60 days.

START CRACKDOWN
George Dolman, Gloucester Township constable and building inspector, recently began a crackdown on the few families still habiting trailers scattered in out-of-the-way parts of the township.

In Nepean, charges have been laid against trailer occupants, even though they lived in an organized trailer camp.

Library Job Set for 1958

OTTAWA (CP) — Construction work on the new building to house the National Library is expected to start in 1958.

The date was disclosed in the annual report of the National Library, Dr. W. Kaye Lamb, who informed Parliament that the site on Wellington street, a block west of Parliament Hill is to be available next year.

The site is that of No. 1 temporary building, a two-storey barracks-like frame building erected during the Second World War as government offices. Trade Minister Howe, who has offices in No. 1, will move to a new edifice across the street.

The National Library, planning a "substantial book collection," now has space for 150,000 books in stackrooms at the Public Archives Record Centre in the west-end Tunney's Pasture.

The report said that since 1950 the library has gathered a listing of more than 6,000,000 volumes kept in 87 libraries across Canada.

For this year the library plans to obtain microfilm records of the Paris newspapers Le Temps for 1938-42 and Le Monde for 1944-54, giving the library a complete file of Paris newspapers as far back as 1796, except for short gaps which will be filled later. It also plans to obtain a complete microfilm record of the New York Times from 1851.

It will obtain shortly newspaper files from Britain, the U.S., Germany, France and Switzerland for the whole period of the Second World War.

The report mentioned no figure of the cost of the library building, to be built next door to the Supreme Court of Canada building.

Sanders Sorry To Lose Ronnie Knox

DENVER (AP) — Henry (Red) Sanders, football coach at the University of California, Los Angeles, said Wednesday he is "sorry" to lose Ronnie Knox, his talented fullback.

He called him the "greatest fullback" he ever had.

Just a few hours earlier he had learned Knox had decided to play with the professional Hamilton Tiger Cats of Canada's Big Four Football League rather than play his senior half season for the Bruins.

"I can't really blame him," Sanders said. "The kids have just been sitting around trying to find out what is going to happen."

Under a Pacific Coast Conference edict, seniors-to-be at UCLA will be able to play just five consecutive games of the 1956 season.

Sanders is in Denver to lecture at the Colorado High School Coaches' Association.

Food Poor At Women's Home Committee Told

Complaints of poor food—"upsetting health"—at the Women's Home have reached the city social welfare committee.

Welfare administrator, William Hooson, was instructed by the committee to draw complaints to the attention of the private board which oversees operation of the home.

The city has no jurisdiction but has welfare cases in the home.

A letter received by welfare chairman, Mrs. Lily Wilson, said one elderly woman became very depressed by a breakfast diet of the same food week after week. The writer was a visitor to the home recently.

It went on to say "the economy is economy," and since all three meals are served within a period of eight hours there is too long a gap between the evening meal and breakfast.

The evening cup, made from powdered milk containing "sediment," is "unpalatable," said the writer.

BIG DIAMOND
The largest diamond ever found weighing 1 1/4 pounds or 3,106 carats, was uncovered in South Africa in 1905.

17 Special Awards To Venture Cadets

Seventeen special awards were presented to cadets and cadet divisions at HMCS Venture ceremonies today, when 97 young men became midshipmen in the RCN.

They formed the first class to graduate from Venture, which was established at Esquimalt two years ago to help fill the navy's growing need for junior officers.

A message to the cadets from Rear-Admiral Hugh F. Pullen, flag officer, Pacific Coast, said: "Your training has been aimed towards giving you the knowledge and skills that you will need to be efficient naval officers."

IN GOOD HANDS

"In the years to come you will be called upon to assume greater responsibility. I am confident you will meet the standard required of you, and that the future of the service will be in good hands."

Graduation ceremony was witnessed by Vice Admiral H. G. DeWolf, chief of naval staff.

Special graduation awards presented were:

Wage Parity Asked For Dockyard Firemen

The new Victoria Labor Council threw its weight behind navy civilian firefighters' demands for prevailing rate salaries Wednesday night.

Firefighters, employed at HMCS Naden and HMC Dockyard by the federal government, have long complained they receive lower wages than those prevailing in municipal fire departments in this area.

In a letter to the council a spokesman for the federal firefighters' union (which may not bargain collectively), said firemen at Pacific Command received less than the 7.10 per cent wage hike granted civil servants in April of this year.

In fact, said the letter, fire captains, lieutenants and other ranks in the department suffered a wage cut which was made retroactive. The loss ranged up to $15 a month.

A brief outlining the union's arguments has been prepared, basing desired salaries on amounts paid members of Victoria fire department.

The Fort William, Ont., city council has invited Marilyn to try today. "She has enough on her hands—out here with Juan de Fuca."

33 years of misery... ASTHMA and Chronic Bronchitis
If bronchial asthma sometimes makes you feel like a human wreck, see what happened to Mr. H. J. Reeder, Box 321, Armstrong, B.C. He tells us "When I was 45 years of age, I began to suffer from asthma and chronic bronchitis. At 78 years of age, I had not found the medicine I needed to get relief from attacks of coughing, wheezing and gasping for breath. Then I was introduced to Templeton's RAZ-MAH by a neighbour, and am thankful indeed to have learned about this comforting relief. Since using RAZ-MAH I breathe far more easily... sleep comfortably and am able to take pleasure in life again... get about without difficulty." Enjoy quick relief from chronic bronchitis and asthma with Templeton's RAZ-MAH—only 79c and $1.50 at drug counters. B-116

'More Smears Says Premier

Allegation Government By-Passing Slander Trial Termed 'Utterly False'

Premier Bennett denied today that he had called an early provincial general election in order to be returned to power before the Sommers-Sturdy case came to trial.

"That is utterly false," the premier complained. "Just another opposition smear. The opposition parties have been smearing ever since I announced this election last Monday night."

"One result of this smear campaign is that over in Vancouver they have had to hire extra girls to handle the hundreds of new Social Credit memberships that are pouring in from all over the province. The people are sick and tired of political smearing."

Marilyn's Diary

Shells Folks!

Victoria certainly proved one thing to us Torontonians yesterday—it loves its Navy.

The way that thunderstorm and rain woke all of us early in the morning we thought that the grumbling clouds and dripping skies would keep the crowds away from the street parade.

But we dressed up warmly and found ourselves a spot on one of the streets and we were just amazed at the huge number of spectators who lined the streets to cheer and wave at the immaculate sailors as they glided by in ramrod straight lines.

Marilyn

Hundreds of little children sat at the curbs, their eyes as big as saucers and their faces just alive with excitement. A parade always does that to kids but it seems that a Navy parade brings an unmatched thrill to people of all ages.

Moving like one man, marching with a proud bearing, blocks of sailors went smartly by us, their gleaming white trim contrasting with the spotless blue of their uniforms and their bayonets glittering like hundreds of mirrors.

Then came the young Venture cadets, dressed in the shade of white that soap companies boast about. It was the sort of thing that makes a person proud to be a Canadian.

Then we went down to Horseshoe Bay (how well I remember that place) to see the Navy demonstration.

With tremendous roars, airplanes swooped out of the clouds like angry birds while ships below fought them off. It was all simulated, but the realism was enough to shake a person.

Depth bombs sent towering columns of water soaring slowly in the air, where they seemed to hang like tapestries and all the while, colored flares turned the sky into a crackling, fastastically-colored Halloween.

I, like everyone else, just stood there with my mouth wide open.

I was snapped out of my awe when the frogmen went to work. Dressed in spooky-looking rubber suits, they dropped from a helicopter and proceeded to blow up a model aircraft carrier in a sinister fashion that reminded me of a science-fiction story.

Maybe those boys have the answer to the Strait.

You wear a rubber suit to beat the cold, foot flippers to make good time, tanks of air to aid your breathing and you beat the waves by going underwater all the way.

But I really don't think I could go for the idea of swimming while carrying a bunch of bombs tied around my middle.

Democrats 'Madly For Adlai'

Frenzied Uproar As 'Cinch Winner' Stevenson Named

(See Pages 3 and 25)

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai Stevenson's name was formally put before the Democratic convention today for the presidential nomination and the delegates flew into a frenzied demonstration for the man they knew was the convention's big prize winner.

Stevenson had it locked up with more than a majority of the delegates promised to him and others hurrying to get aboard the bandwagon.

Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts nominated "the man from Libertyville . . . and the next president, Adlai Stevenson."

That brought a cheering march around the hall. Stevenson supporters waved banners reading "We're Madly For Adlai."

Actual balloting comes tonight.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who has been running this convention with a taut hand as chairman, laid down some ground rules for this afternoon's nominating session.

He said all demonstrations must be limited to 20 minutes, and that nobody except delegates could join in them.

Stevenson's name was the second placed before the con-

ARTHUR LAING CHARGES—

Socreds 'Racing With the Law...'

(From CP and BUP)

VANCOUVER—British Columbia Liberal Leader Arthur Laing flew the flag of "left of centre liberalism" in the cause of reform and social improvement in his first election manifesto Wednesday.

Thrusting hard at Premier W. A. C. Bennett, Laing said the premier's snap election call was "a race with the law," designed to prevent the voters from hearing charges "which have tainted his entire government."

The early election is designed to "smother" disclosures of public business, he said. Although the Liberal leader did not refer to it by name, he was obviously speaking of the "Sommers-Sturdy case," which is still before the courts in a slander charge brought by former lands and forests minister Robert Sommers.

"The real issue is whether or not we are going to have democratic government," said Mr. Laing.

He said a $28 rebate in taxes to homeowners has been offered by Premier Bennett as an issue and referred to it as "a gimmick."

Mr. Laing accused the Social Credit government of too much centralization of authority.

"Since 1952, every decision, the economics of everyday family life, social services, the freedom of organized labor, the status of our municipalities and school boards, have all rested on the impulse of one man."

He said the Liberalism stands for "broadest possible distribution of authority."

EDMUNSTON, N.B.—Bob Fleming of Victoria, B.C., gained the quarter-finals of the Canadian amateur golf championship here this morning and this afternoon faced defending champion Moe Norman from Kitchener, Ont.

Fleming had an easy time in today's first match, defeating Jack Lowery of St. Catharines, Ont., 5 and 4.

Norman sank a five-foot birdie putt on the 20th hole to beat Ed Meister, Jr., Willoughby, Ohio.

Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., 1956 Canadian Open champion and co-medalist with Meister, was forced to shoot a record five under par 68 to beat Frank Strafaci, Garden City, 1 up.

Lumsdon Hits Strait In Surprise Attempt

IF LOOKS COULD WIN...

Prior to taking off from Horseshoe bay on his first attempt to swim the Strait of Juan de Fuca, burly Cliff Lumsdon gave the strait a meaningful swool. Lumsdon, who plans to swim in the Lake Ontario marathon later this month, started today's swim at 1.59—(Times photo.)

Swim Star Leaves Horseshoe Bay

Big Cliff Lumsdon of Toronto, champion of Canadian marathon swimmers, plunged into the waters of Horseshoe bay, Beacon Hill park, at 1.59 p.m. today in an attempt to swim Juan de Fuca strait to Port Angeles.

It was a surprise attack on the channel by the rugged swim star from Marilyn Bell's camp at Old Charming Inn.

It was kept dark until the last minute so that a final weather check could be made. There was no advance fanfare.

The swim began in calm waters and there were high hopes that the westerly winds forecast for the afternoon would not get up too strongly to impede the powerful swimmer.

The 25-year-old 215-pound marathon veteran helped Marilyn on her Friday swim and originally had planned to train in Victoria for the Junior Chamber of Commerce Mass Swim, Aug. 26.

However, Lumsdon weighed the financial possibilities and has chosen to leave for Toronto this weekend or early next week for the $26,000 CNE swim in Lake Ontario on the same date.

But he was determined not to leave Victoria without taking an official crack at the Strait that last week defeated Marilyn, his clubmate from the Lakeshore Club, on her first attempt.

In pacing Marilyn in that effort he impressed onlookers with the tremendous strength of his stroke and his speed.

Capt. Ellice Cavin Navigator

Capt. Ellice Cavin of Island Tug & Barge Co. agreed to navigate for Cliff as he did for Marilyn, and the Island Challenger was chosen as pilot boat. Timer and observer is retired Army Captain Frederick Bliss.

Lumsdon had nothing but his personal pride to swim for today. There was no prize money put up and he had no guarantees.

Coach Gus Ryder, figuring on Lumsdon's amazing speed in the water, estimated that the big marathoner could make the swim, to Port Angeles in nine or 10 hours under proper conditions.

Tide conditions today promised him 24 hours of slight flood tide before high water, which would carry him in southeasterly direction. After that he would swim in an almost straight line towards Ediz Hook.

Lumsdon has been a Lakeshore Club member under Ryder since he was six years old.

His first major victory came in 1948 when he won the CNE 15-mile race in Lake Ontario.

Since that time, he has won one other 15-mile, two 10-mile, a gruelling 32-mile race in 1955 and this year, won the 26-mile Atlantic City race in a tremendous stretch duel with Tom Park. In that dramatic race, Lumsdon and Park sprinted the last 100 yards side by side with Lumsdon's last-ditch kick giving him victory and a purse of $6,000 by half the length of his body.

Terrorists Call Truce on Cyprus

Halt Ordered in Bombings That Have Killed 50 Britons

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)—A pamphlet purporting to be issued by the EOKA terrorist organization today announced that it had called a truce in its anti-British campaign of violence.

The pamphlet, which bore the name of "Digenis," the EOKA leader, said the suspension of all EOKA activities had been ordered to avoid further bloodshed.

The immediate official reaction was that the leaflet was genuine.

The terrorists, who launched their campaign on April 1, 1955, are said to be led by a retired Greek Army officer named George Grivas. He signs himself "Digenis."

The EOKA terrorists seek the union of this British island colony with Greece. Four-fifths of the island's 500,000 population is of Greek origin and the remainder mainly of Turkish background.

More than 70 persons were killed by terrorists in the first year of their anti-colonial campaign.

British servicemen and civilians killed by the terrorists up to date total 50.

Akel, the outlawed Cyprus Communist party, on July 5 denounced Col. Grivas as a "fascist" and said the Cyprus working class would not co-operate with his movement, even though their aims—separation swim.

of Cyprus from Britain and its union with Greece—were the same.

Geohegan Swims Past 9-Mile Mark

CAMPBELL RIVER (CP)—Hardrock miner Michael Geohegan had gone nine miles at noon today in his second attempt to swim the 32-mile Georgia strait from Campbell River to Powell River.

He was reported going strongly, 60 strokes to the minute although a 10-mile-an-hour wind was causing six-foot waves.

AIRCRAFT OF B.C. Airlines were flying above to give him encouragement. Geohegan last attempted the swim July 29 when tides forced him to give up after covering 11 miles.

He left Campbell River at 8.45 a.m. after breakfasting on eight eggs. He was being fed milk and beaten eggs during the swim.

WIRE BRIEFS

10 Years in Jail

CHICAGO (AP)—Orville E. Hodge, the popular, fun-loving Illinois state auditor who took home a sizable chunk of the state's treasury, was sentenced today to 10 years in prison.

Bus Ambushed, 4 Die

JERUSALEM (AP)—Three Israeli soldiers and one woman were killed when a bus en route to Elat was ambushed today, it was announced here.

5 Children Perish

MONTREAL (CP)—Five children burned to death early today in a summer camp at Lac Brûlé in the Rouyn-Noranda district of northwestern Quebec, provincial police reported here.

Policed listed the victims as Eva Bureau, 14; Denise Bureau, 10; Jocelyn Bureau, 4; Liliane Bureau, 2, and Jean-Paul Picard, 16.

Dulles Wins Backing On 4-Point Suez Plan

LONDON (UP)—The U.S. today revealed to the 22-nation London conference its four-point plan for internationalizing the Suez Canal.

The plan, outlined by Secretary of State Dulles at the party's afternoon session, won immediate backing from Sweden and Portugal.

The Dulles proposals—said to represent the "co-ordinated views" of the United States, Britain and France—would free the canal from domination by any one power or groups of powers.

The four points were: 1. The canal should be operated in accordance with the 1888 Constantinople convention under an international board to be established by treaty and associated with the United Nations.

Egypt would be represented on the board, but there would be no dominating by any power or groups of powers and no prejudice to any power.

2. Egypt's right to a fair return would be recognized.

3. There would be fair compensation to the canal's former stockholders.

4. Any differences would be submitted to an arbitration commission.

Dulles was the first speaker at the conference's afternoon session.

Prime Minister Anthony Eden warned the morning session that the Suez crisis is the gravest since the Second World War and Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov challenged the competence of the conference to settle the dispute.

But the fledgling Russian foreign minister announced his country would not "hamper" the conference.

He said the exchange of viewpoints at London could be "extremely useful as a first step."

Of the 24 nations invited to the London talks, only Greece and Egypt are unrepresented by envoys. But Premier Nasser has sent his cabinet chief to be "an unofficial observer."

First-Class Guide to Keep Working for 'Gold Cords'

For the first time in four years, Doris Watters, 15, didn't attend Girl Guide camp this summer.

She stayed home to look after her little brother, Harold, 2, because this year it was her mother's turn to go.

Mrs. E. Watters is guide captain of Doris' group, the 1st Marigold Guide Company.

"I'd gone for the past three years and this was Mom's first trip," said Doris.

WITH 12 BADGES testifying to her prowess as a homemaker, Doris experienced no difficulty in her duties as nurse, cook and baby-sitter.

Her badges have been earned over a period of four years as a guide. Now a first-class guide, she is the senior member of her group and plans to keep working until she gets her "gold cords," highest guide award possible.

Grade 10 student at Mt. View High school, Doris plans to be a home economics teacher. Guide work doesn't leave much time for hobbies, but she does "a lot of reading and swimming."

Doris is the eldest daughter of Mrs. E. Watters, 930 Snowdrop avenue.

Canadian is a Canadian wherever he comes from."

He declared the Social Credit government had only laid the foundations for its administration in B.C. and needed another mandate to put the rest of its "ambitious and far-reaching plans" into effect.

RECESSION?

When asked if he saw any danger of a recession which would interfere with his plans, Mr. Bennett replied:

"The only danger of a recession is if the federal government in Ottawa keeps raising the bank rate. That is the way to promote a recession. But I cannot believe they will raise it again. I don't think there will be a recession."

Of the possibility of a fall session of the legislature to deal with new forest legislation, the premier said:

"It all depends when we get the report of the Sloan royal commission. We do not want to rush the chief justice on such an important matter. But if he can finish his report in time we will probably have a fall session."

Mr. Bennett said he would not be travelling extensively during the campaign as he was "determined not to neglect his duties as premier for purely political ends."

vention. The first was Washington's blond, handsome Senator Warren Magnuson who immediately withdrew in favor of Stevenson.

In delegation caucuses early this afternoon a big march was on for Stevenson, 56-year-old former Illinois governor and 1952 nominee.

The latest Associated Press poll gives Stevenson 690—or 3½ votes more than needed for the nomination.

Governor Averell Harriman of New York, who made the chief challenge to Stevenson in the week's manoeuvring, insisted he was still in serious contention. He fired a telegram to all chairmen of state delegations telling them:

"I just talked with ex-President Truman. We are determined to fight through to the nomination tonight regardless of any rumors or may yet hear."

But to the delegates the remaining unanswered big question of the convention was: Who will be Stevenson's running mate? That decision is scheduled for Friday's convention session.

Forest Fires Cost Canada $16 Millions

OTTAWA (CP)—Forest fires cost Canada more than $16,000,000 in 1955, the forestry branch of the federal resources department calculates.

The branch estimated actual damage was $7,140,960, cost of fire-fighting was $6,570,000 and replacement of equipment and other charges brought this past $16,000,000.

The timber lost figure of $7,140,960 compared with 1945-1954 average of $3,656,718. Average annual fire-fighting costs over this period were $2,059,000. In 1955 lightning was the major cause of fires.

12% Staggered Wage Increase Awarded 8,000 CPR Employees

OTTAWA (BUP)—Eight thousand employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway today received word of a federal conciliation board recommendation that they get a 7 per cent pay increase, effective April 1, 1956, and a further 5 per cent on June 1, 1957.

Union leaders waited for official reaction from the CPR before giving the news a joyous reception. Refusal by the CPR to pay the new rates could lead to further protracted negotiations between the parties.

The board's recommendation was contained in a unanimous report to Labor Minister Milton Gregg which was released today. Judge J. C. Anderson, of Belleville, Ont., was chairman of the board.

At issue was the collective agreement between the CPR and five groups of employees represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. They are:

1. Yardmasters, Eastern, Prairie and Pacific regions.
2. Yard foremen, helpers, switchtenders and car retarder operators, Eastern region.
3. Conductors, baggagemen and brakemen, Eastern region.
4. Conductors, baggagemen and trainmen, Prairie and Pacific regions.
5. Yard foremen, helpers and switchtenders, Pacific and Prairie regions.

The board recommended that a company-union agreement which was scheduled for revision last March 31 be renewed for 26 months, until May 31, 1958.

3 Licences, 1 Marriage; Refund Paid

Kenneth Avender of Burnaby, B.C., tried three times to get married and succeeded the third time. He bought a marriage licence on April 18, 1953, but an auto accident led to postponement of the wedding and the licence expired July 18.

Avender bought another licence on Jan. 3, 1956. This time severe weather prevented the wedding as he could not leave his place of employment at 100-Mile House in the Cariboo. The second licence expired March 3.

Undaunted, Avender bought a third licence three months later and was finally married on June 1 at New Westminster.

Today the B.C. cabinet granted Avender a refund of money spent on licences which did not lead him to the altar.

TRAIL — G. L. (Flip) Filippelli of Trail, national president of the junior chamber of commerce, leaves next month on a Jaycee tour which will take him as far as New Zealand. He will tour Canada, until November when he will go to New Zealand to attend the International Jaycee conference.

Sons, Daughters Of Russ Leaders In Wild Orgies

MOSCOW (AP)—The youth newspaper Komsomol Pravda Wednesday accused sons of two Soviet cabinet ministers of drunken orgies with young daughters of high army, secret police (MVD) and air officers.

It said the girls committed burglaries to finance the young couples' riotous living in their parents' absence.

It was the most sensational personal scandal exposed since the Communist revolution.

The Soviet public read avidly the picture given by the paper of gilded youth frolicking in luxurious city apartments while their prominent parents vacationed in luxurious dachas (country homes).

Although no post-war United States films have ever been shown here, the story charged that the youngsters had been influenced by American movies.

The youths were identified as Evgeny and Mikhail Kabanov, sons of "minister Kabanov," Sergei Petukhov, son of "a minister," Eriena Kuznetsova, daughter of a Red Army major-general; Alla Maximova, stepdaughter of an MVD lieutenant-colonel, and Tanya Andreyeva, daughter of an air force colonel.

B.C., U.S. Politicians In Hot Fight for TV Time

B.C. and American political parties may well cause television station KVOS-TV to change its signature melodies to "Buy Time Is Your Time" and "Cash Registers Are Tinkling in Bellingham," it was learned Wednesday.

When Premier W. A. C. Bennett called his "blitzkrieg" election for Sept. 19 last Monday night, some of B.C.'s political party spokesmen immediately began to inquire from Bellingham if Channel 12 would be open to them for campaign speeches.

A phone call this morning elicited the information that KVOS-TV was ready, willing and able, promising comparable "good spots" to all.

SCHOOL RECORD LOOMS

VANCOUVER—Record enrolment is predicted for Vancouver schools when the 1955-56 term opens Sept. 5.

An estimated 53,500 pupils will attend the city's kindergarten, primary and secondary schools in the coming term, compared with 51,428 last term.

at ROAF MOTORS LTD.

KVOS-TV also will be selling time to American candidates who are competing in the Washington primary. The B.C. and Washington political campaigns take place roughly about the same time. However, KVOS-TV intimated they would play no favorites.

Meanwhile, B.C.'s political leaders have met with CBC officials to discuss CBUT-TV time schedules. The CBC, a government-owned corporation, cannot sell time for political purposes. However, it can give it away under a policy that allows the various parties to work out their own times between themselves.

ST. LAURENT HOLIDAYS AT QUE. SUMMER HOME

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent left the capital Wednesday night for a holiday at his summer home at St. Patrice, Que., after a two-hour cabinet meeting to clean up post-session government business.

He plans to remain away from Ottawa until early in September and observers here say this is good evidence that there will be no general election this year. The speculation in Ottawa quarters is that the government will go to the country in June, 1957.

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

Because of yesterday's goings-on, I have been asked to tell all I know about the Navy.

Fortunately, I do not know much about the Navy, except it is a good thing.

One of the reasons the Navy is a good thing is because, when the Navy wishes to progress from one shore to another, it rarely attempts to do so by swimming.

The Navy has a quaint, old-fashioned notion that water is for floating ships on and mixing drinks with, not dunking in.

The Navy, in fact, rather resents water, because if it were not for water, the Navy could spend all its time ashore. However, faced as it is with water, the Navy does the best it can.

It sails all around and about in contrivances known to you and me as boats, but to the Navy as ships.

A ship is home to the navy man, but it is not a Home with Rooms, Floors, Ceilings, and Walls.

Instead, it has Flats, Decks, Overheads, and Bulkheads. (It has Knuckleheads, too, but we will not go into that.)

Also, instead of windows, a ship has small round openings which if you store your clothes in there you shouldn't have.

All Navy men have their own stations, the most popular of which is Panie.

If you intend to be a Navy man, you must learn where your Panie station is, and to know that, you must first learn which side of a ship is up.

This is the side opposite to the one which is down. Frequently, it is hard to tell the difference, thus Panie Stations.

Also, there is a difference between one end of a ship and the other end. The sharp end up near the pillings is known as the bow, and the other known as the arrow. Commanding officers of Navy ships, when coming in to the jetty in reverse, are allowed a margin for arrow.

Most of them take advantage of it.

Navy ships carry boats. Boats carried on Navy ships are equipped with wharves, all sorts of wharves.

All Navy ships have a forecastle, although few have a onecastle, twocastle, or threecastle.

The head of a Navy ship is not necessarily the commanding officer.

All Navy ships have a bridge, as they are built under contract. Cost plus.

They also have a stem, because without a stem, how could the duty watch clean the ships from stem to rudder?

There are various ranks in the Navy, including Able Bodied (mmm... MMM!) Seaman and Leading (did you ever meet one who wasn't?) Seaman.

The other ranks don't matter too much, because you can tell the difference between an OS and a Vice-Admiral? (Answer: The OS can.)

This, fortunately, is all I know about the Navy. In fact, I haven't a clue.

PROBE FRIDAY IN DEATH OF MILLHAND

An inquest will be held at 10 a.m. Friday into the death of 35-year-old millworker Gordon Cecil Christian in a motorcycle crash.

The inquest will be directed by coroner Dr. E. C. Hart at Thomson's Funeral Home. The funeral is expected to be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Christian died instantly from severe head injuries suffered when his motorcycle missed the corner at Gorge and Harriet and crashed into a cement wall at the San Sebastian Auto Court.

Members of the executive were sworn in by T. C. Gooderham, regional director of organization and education. On their oaths they said they would not support or take part in any activity subversive to the democratic way or the principles of unionism.

LOT OF WORK
In a brief message president John MacKenzie said the council needs "to recognize a lot of work has to be done at our own back door" in the way of organization.

A special guest was Mrs. Kent Hunter, U.S. labor writer under the name Ruth Taylor, who urged unionists to learn all they could about labor.

Labor should "learn how to talk, learn to present its viewpoint and learn everyone else's viewpoint. That is the only way labor can get ahead," she said.

The president appointed boiler-maker's business agent and delegate James McConachy, IWA delegate Edwin Haw, and carpenter's delegate E. T. Staley as council trustees.

Education chairman Fred Revis was instructed to make arrangements for a Canadian Labor Congress educational institute in Victoria, Oct. 19-21. Courses ranging from public speaking and parliamentary procedure to duties of shop stewards and labor journalism will be offered.

Underground Wiring Specifications Ordered
Authority to prepare specifications for a $218,900 underground wiring system for Victoria's business area was given city electrical engineer Ken Reid Wednesday.

The city will begin the four-year job this winter with excavating and duct installation work, which will be spread over two winters at an estimated cost of $35,000, said street lighting committee.

Launching Ramp
Permission of Canadian National Railways will be sought by the city parks committee to construct a small boat launching ramp across railway tracks at the foot of St. Lawrence Street.

Proposed launching ramp is slated for development in 1957, administrator W. H. Warren said. It would allow boats to enter the water at the mouth of the harbor, between Victoria Machinery Depot Yard 2 and Ogden Point Docks.

Alternative site is at Clover Point in Ross Bay.

Deadline Nears For Entries in Elk-Beaver Swim
Officials of the second annual Beaver-Elk Lake Labor Day swim are anxious to have as many swimmers in the water in the one day of their event as the Strait of Juan de Fuca has had in the last two years.

One of the highlights of the Saanich Golden Jubilee celebrations, the big lake event features a two-mile race from Elk Lake to Beaver Lake, as well as diving competitions for youngsters in age groups from 11 to 19.

In the big swim, won last year by Douglas Dickie in 55 1/2 minutes, there will be three age classes: 11, 12 and 13 years; 14, 15 and 16 years; and 17, 18 and 19 years. Two classes will be open for divers: 17, 18 and 19 years, and under 16 years.

There will be cups and prizes for all runners-up. Sprint races, novelty swims and other exhibitions are expected to fill out the aquatic program.

All prospective swimmers are reminded that an entry form, signed by parents, must be in the hands of the swim committee by Aug. 20.

Entry forms can be picked up at Beaver Lake, Lakeside Tea Rooms, or by contacting Will Sadler, 9-4131.

Philip Fleming, Victoria, is named chairman of a conciliation board to settle a dispute between firms belonging to Victoria Electrical Contractors' Association and local 230, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

About 30 construction wiremen ask a wage boost plus pay for statutory holidays.

Employees' nominee to the board is Herb Flesher, Vancouver, and for employers is D. E. Smith, Victoria.

Loss of Votes 'Scandalous'

Premier Bennett's calling of a Sept. 19 election with next Tuesday the deadline for registration of voters has brought an angry reaction from organizations and opposition members in British Columbia.

At Nelson, Randolph Harding, CCF MLA, Kaslo-Slocan, said registration of voters in his riding is the "most inefficient and scandalous thing I've ever seen."

He said he believes "hundreds" of names will not get on the list by Tuesday.

Mr. Harding also said no deputy registrar had been appointed by Wednesday evening "to see that Doukhobors, who now are eligible to vote, be given a chance to exercise their franchise."

He said also "It is a shameful thing to call an election without making the necessary preparations for all British Columbians to vote, regardless of political party."

PERSONAL CANVASS
In Victoria, former CCF MLA Frank Snowsall said he has found evidence that it will be impossible to complete voters' registrations by next Tuesday.

In a personal canvass of three blocks close to his home at 480 Marigold, Wednesday night, he collected 13 registrations in an hour and a half, Mr. Snowsall said.

"I was not canvassing them for my party," he said, "I just wanted to be sure they would have a vote."

"The system is in a state of chaos," he said.

After receiving a complaint from N. P. Finemore of 550 Agnes, who came here from Edmonton three years ago, that Strawberry Vale hall registration centre was locked up, Mr. Snowsall found it will remain closed.

Persons in that area wishing to get their names on the list should go to the Women's Institute Hall on Wilkinson Road at Roy Road.

Mr. Snowsall was supported by Liberal Leader Arthur Laing who said he is convinced the registration of voters cannot be completed.

FOURTH ENTRY
Officials of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce have announced that they have received the fourth official entry for their $5,000 mass strait race, Aug. 26.

William Goll, Landing, N.J., a 39-year-old veteran of Atlantic City and Lake Ontario swims, wrote swim officials that he would leave for Victoria, Aug. 17.

Florence Chadwick, one-time queen of the marathoners, notified swim officials that she regretted she would be unable to compete in the swim this year, following doctor's orders. She hoped to return to Victoria next year for another strait bid.

Launching Ramp
Permission of Canadian National Railways will be sought by the city parks committee to construct a small boat launching ramp across railway tracks at the foot of St. Lawrence Street.

Proposed launching ramp is slated for development in 1957, administrator W. H. Warren said. It would allow boats to enter the water at the mouth of the harbor, between Victoria Machinery Depot Yard 2 and Ogden Point Docks.

Alternative site is at Clover Point in Ross Bay.

Deadline Nears For Entries in Elk-Beaver Swim
Officials of the second annual Beaver-Elk Lake Labor Day swim are anxious to have as many swimmers in the water in the one day of their event as the Strait of Juan de Fuca has had in the last two years.

One of the highlights of the Saanich Golden Jubilee celebrations, the big lake event features a two-mile race from Elk Lake to Beaver Lake, as well as diving competitions for youngsters in age groups from 11 to 19.

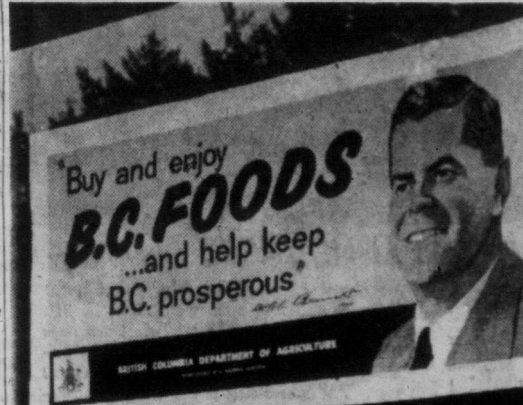

In the big swim, won last year by Douglas Dickie in 55 1/2 minutes, there will be three age classes: 11, 12 and 13 years; 14, 15 and 16 years; and 17, 18 and 19 years. Two classes will be open for divers: 17, 18 and 19 years, and under 16 years.

There will be cups and prizes for all runners-up. Sprint races, novelty swims and other exhibitions are expected to fill out the aquatic program.

All prospective swimmers are reminded that an entry form, signed by parents, must be in the hands of the swim committee by Aug. 20.

Entry forms can be picked up at Beaver Lake, Lakeside Tea Rooms, or by contacting Will Sadler, 9-4131.

Stores Remove Bennett Photos

"B.C. Food" poster on display.

'No Political Preferences,' Say Officials

"Buy B.C. Food" posters carrying a large photograph of Premier W. A. C. Bennett, which have been on display in many store windows for the past 10 days, are being removed today.

Store officials indicated the placards are being taken down because of Monday's announcement of a provincial election.

They feared the posters might indicate a political preference on the part of their stores.

About one-third of the poster space is devoted to the photograph.

SERVED PURPOSE
Several Super-Valu stores here have had the posters in their windows, but Colin Stewart, B.C. supervisor for Super-Valu, said today "possibly they have served their purpose. We displayed them as part of the general campaign to help sell B.C. products, and I believe they have been up long enough. We are going to take them down."

Canada Safeway Ltd. stores here received the posters from the head office in Vancouver about two weeks ago. Due to other merchandising commitments, only the Fort Street store displayed the poster in the window.

It is now unlikely the other stores will use them.

G. C. Anselmo, Vancouver Island supervisor, said today he was going to contact head office for instructions.

HANDS OFF
"Naturally, Safeway has no political interests whatsoever, and we do not wish to be involved in any way. It might be wiser not to display the posters."

The posters, part of a $100,000 provincial department of agriculture campaign to publicize B.C. foods, were not distributed to smaller stores.

ASK The TIMES
Q.—Will you please tell me the author of the poem "We Are Seven"? It was well known and taught in schools of England some 60 to 70 years ago.—G.B., Duncan, B.C.

A.—That poem of William Wordsworth (1770-1850) has also been taught in schools of Canada.

Q.—I would appreciate it if you could give the name of a reputable appraiser of violins. I have three violins.—Mrs. D.D.

A.—We suggest you communicate with Mr. McEwen at the F. G. Ward Music Co., Broad Street, who will be pleased to assist you.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

Esquimalt council will not hold a regular meeting until Sept. 10, unless a meeting is called by acting reeve, Councillor J. E. Carey.

Reeve A. C. Wurtele will leave Aug. 25 for a holiday in Banff, and Councillor Carey has been appointed acting reeve in his absence.

Running out on to the road between parked cars brought seven-year-old Elizabeth Robinson, 1151 View, in collision with a car Wednesday.

She was in good condition in St. Joseph's Hospital today with head lacerations, a cut wrist and abrasions to her right arm and leg.

Police said the driver of the car was Mona S. Huntley, 158 Sims.

Appointment of Lily Primrose as sub-minister recorder for all mining divisions in British Columbia with offices in Victoria was approved Wednesday by the B.C. cabinet.

Another summer of supervised fun will end for youngsters of Broadmead Park Friday at 7 p.m. Supervisor Miss Lois Walker and her assistant, Mrs. Margaret Wolters have planned novelty events, a cheerleaders' display, and projects display and gymnastic exhibition for the closing ceremonies.

Associated Credit Bureau of British Columbia will hold their fifth annual meeting September 9-12 at Maple Bay Lodge, near Duncan.

Panel discussions for credit granters will be included in the program.

FRIDAY MEETINGS
Victoria Lions: Empress Hotel, luncheon at noon. Subject of speaker Andy Anderson will be "Is Music a Profession or a Hobby?"

Capital City Commercial Club: Pacific Club, luncheon at noon.

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks has appointed Waldo Skillings, Victoria, chairman of a conciliation board to resolve a dispute between Acme Press Ltd. and four other printing firms, and Victoria Typographical Union, local 201.

The union wants a wage increase and changes in contract covering holidays, sick leave and overtime for about 20 printers.

Hugh Lance, Vancouver, is employers' nominee and R. P. Jeffries, Vancouver, employees' nominee.

Roderick Graff, 1613 Belmont was remanded to Aug. 30 to set a date for preliminary hearing of a charge of manslaughter when he appeared in city police court today.

Graff is charged in the death July 14 of Reginald Minihinnick, 68, eight days after a car-bicycle collision at Bay and Blanshard.

Applications for a conciliation officer has been made by Victoria General Teamsters' Union in its dispute with major cartage firms in the city.

Truckers rejected an offer of 10 cents an hour spread over two years and demand an across the board increase in wages from the basic $1.55 an hour, plus an additional paid statutory holiday to make a total of nine, and time and a half pay for Saturday afternoon work.

Werner A. Marte, 1303 Carnesow, who pleaded not guilty through an interpreter to a charge of careless driving, was convicted by Magistrate A. J. Thomas in city police court today and fined $35.

Marte, a body repairman at Roaf Motors, testified he understood, at the scene of the accident and Belleville July 31, to repair the other car.

He did not have insurance, he said.

Victoria branch of War Amputations of Canada is continuing its campaign for funds to construct a memorial centre here for its membership on the Island.

A 1956 model car is being offered through ticket sales handled by amputees at car lots around town. The prize will move from lot to lot over a period of several days.

Tickets may also be obtained at Hudson's Bay Co., Roaf Motors Ltd., and from Aug. 17-25 at Eaton's.

Boys between the age of 11 and 16 interested in joining the Saanich Police Boys' Club have been invited to fill out application forms.

Club president, juvenile officer Harry Adams, said today the program of sports and organized activities will begin Sept. 8.

The club has grown in size from nine members when it was formed last spring to 161 and now is looking for a club house.

Arne Olavsen, 108 Helmcken, who admitted going through a red light at Government and Fisgard before hitting another car, was fined $35 in city police court today for careless driving.

"It was all my fault," he told officers at the accident scene Aug. 4.

Phillip Fleming, Victoria, is named chairman of a conciliation board to settle a dispute between firms belonging to Victoria Electrical Contractors' Association and local 230, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

About 30 construction wiremen ask a wage boost plus pay for statutory holidays.

Employees' nominee to the board is Herb Flesher, Vancouver, and for employers is D. E. Smith, Victoria.

'BLACK MONSTER' TO STAY IN YOUTH'S BEDROOM

Walt Was So Right—It Was a Cannon Ball

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

A 12-year-old boy in short pants cycled up to the stately Legislative Buildings Wednesday afternoon carrying a 15-pound cannon ball.

It would have been too heavy for most cyclists—not for husky, blue-eyed Walt Smith of 41 South Turner, Victoria.

Walt skillfully navigated his bicycle up to the front steps of the Buildings, balancing the cannon ball on the crossbar. Then, dismounting with difficulty, he trudged up to the inquiry office and showed his heavy iron prize to the commissioners who greet visitors to the Buildings.

Commissionaire Mort Dundas directed Walt to the Provincial Museum. There he learned that the cannon ball he found at Miracle Beach, near Courtenay, last week was indeed a cannon ball (as he believed), and had probably been fired from a British battleship more than 100 years ago—perhaps to scare a band of Vancouver Island Indians who were giving trouble.

Walt did not offer to bequeath his prize to the museum as a gift to posterity.

"I want to keep it—for the present at least," he said. "I think I'll put it on a shelf in my bedroom."

Walt finished at South Park School last term and will go to Central Junior High next month. He is a good student with a special liking for history.

"I like to learn what Vancouver Island was like before white people settled here," he said, "and this cannon ball is right up my street."

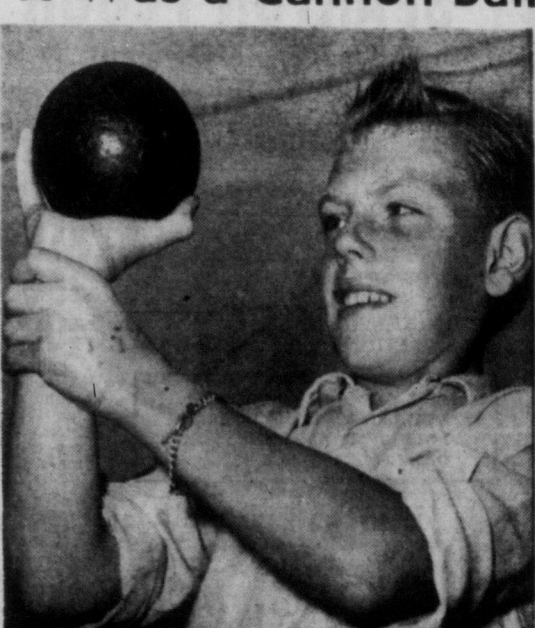

Walt was camping at Miracle Beach with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Smith and four brothers and sisters when he came upon the heavy black ball, half submerged in soil near the beach.

At first he could not move it. Then by digging up the soil around it, he succeeded.

The Smiths returned home after their holiday with the black monster in the back of the car. They weighed it on the kitchen scales and it was exactly 15 pounds.

When he's not collecting ammunition, Walt keeps rabbits, plays trombone in Victoria Boys' Band and builds model airplanes.

WALT IS PROUD OF his Miracle beach cannon ball.

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hamilton, 1950 Ash street, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Patricia, to Mr. Douglas Edward Campbell, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, 2341 Blanshard street. The wedding will take place quietly in the chapel of St. John's Anglican Church, Sept. 8 at 1.30 p.m. with Rev. C. W. Downer officiating. The bride-elect will have Miss Bernice Eskola, Port Alberni, as bridesmaid. Mr. Lloyd McBratney will be the best man. The groom-elect is a graduate in Commerce from the University of British Columbia.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The Way We Walk Deserves Attention

We take walking for granted, but it is really a most complicated operation. Few women give serious thought to the way they walk although how they walk and stand makes such a great difference in their figures, their grace, and even in their energy.

A beautiful walk is like a song and good posture improves the figure tremendously.

No matter how slim you are, if your abdomen protrudes, your bust rests on your ribs, your shoulders are rounded and your neck sticks out forward, your silhouette is not going to be attractive. You can actually decrease your waist measurement and increase your bust measurement simply by improving your posture.

Now let us think of the manner in which we weave our way along. Do not throw your weight from side to side!

Poor posture and incorrect walking place a strain on the muscles and ligaments and cause us to become tired. Sway back makes the hips appear out of proportion. Rigid knees make the walk jerky.

Step forward, placing one foot in front of the other. Keep the knees relaxed. Do not overextend them. Your heel strikes the floor first. After that the weight should move along the outer sides of the feet and onto the toe. Give yourself a gentle pushoff from your toes.

Practice this: Stand with your back toward the wall and your heels and the back of your head touching the wall. Now try to touch as much of your back to the wall as possible. In order to do this you will have to pull your abdomen in and tuck your hips under. Bend the knees very slightly. Now push away from the wall. This will seem queer at first and will be a bit exaggerated but it will give you the general idea.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 57 "Grace and Charm," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Digging Into Savings Can Be Good Business

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Living within one's means is a policy that should be followed by anyone who wants to be successful in life. However, there are times when spending more than seems justified, or even digging into savings, is wise. That is what I pointed out to the wife who complained:

(Q)—"Ever since we were married, nearly 16 years ago, we have lived according to a strict budget and have never been in debt. In fact, we have saved enough to send our two children to college when they are old enough to go. However, during this past winter, my husband joined a businessmen's club and has been very active, attending all the meetings and serving on some of the committees. This has meant money for dues, for dinners, new clothes, outings with golf and drinks, and even entertaining the members of his committees."

"These expenses have gone beyond our budget and my husband has drawn on our savings to pay them. I object to this and have urged him to resign from the club. Am I being selfish about this? I know my husband enjoys his contacts with the men and would hate to give them up."

(A)—I think you are both selfish and shortsighted to ask your husband to resign from this club. Instead, you should be urging him to continue his membership and should encourage him to take as active a part in the work of the club as he can without seeming to be "pushy."

The money spent for this will, in time, be more than repaid. I can assure you. It is not splurging to do what your husband is doing but it is good, common business sense. Through these personal contacts with other businessmen, your husband is establishing himself as one of the business leaders of the community and this can readily lead to better business and more income for him.

It is always good business for a man to entertain his business associates. But, he should not skimp here. Urge your husband to entertain well, when he does entertain, and see that the food is the best he can offer, whether at your home or in a restaurant. This will impress his business associates and create in their minds the idea that he is a "big shot" in the business world.

Busy Life Encompasses Many Phases of Work

MONTREAL (CP)—Harriet Thomson, 23-year-old student, admits the last two years of her life have been "fairly busy" ones for her, but explains: "I like to keep occupied."

Miss Thomson recently returned to her home in Baie d'Urfe, near Montreal, after:

Graduating with honors from the University of Toronto;

Obtaining a bachelor of arts degree at Cambridge University in England;

Organizing and serving as second vice-president of the Cambridge Women's Union;

Becoming the first woman undergraduate to speak in the presidential debate of the Cambridge Union;

Touring Europe on a motor-scooter;

Appearing in several college plays;

And becoming engaged.

Miss Thomson returns to

Cambridge this month to take a course in sun radiation. She is to be married in October to Raymond Turner, a South African student she met at the university.

Pirie to Seek Double At Melbourne Olympics

LONDON (AP) — Gordon Pirie, Britain's world record holder at 5,000 metres, Wednesday was picked to try for a 5,000 and 10,000 double in the Olympic Games at Melbourne.

The 25-year-old paint salesman had hoped to try for a triple, including the 1,500 metres, but the selectors of the British Olympic track and field squad apparently considered that would be too much of a task for even the stout-hearted Pirie.

Pirie celebrated his selection for the 5,000 and 10,000 metre Olympic events Wednesday by clocking the fastest time this year for two miles.

Running at an international track meet here, 25-year-old Pirie was timed in eight minutes, 42.6 seconds. The world record, held by Hungarian Sandor Iharos, is eight minutes, 33.4 seconds.

A total of 50 stars, 39 men and 11 women, were named for Britain's largest travelling Olympic track and field squad.

Two men who have broken the four-minute mile, Chris Chataway and Geoff Derek Ibbotson, were chosen with Pirie for the 5,000. The 1,500 trio includes one sub-

Trunk Sewer Hookup Studied For Kinver Street

Estimates are being prepared on the cost of pumping effluent from the Kinver Street sewer to the northwest trunk sewer to combat pollution at Kinver beach. Esquimalt municipal engineer John Graeme said Wednesday.

Solids clogging the sewer tank have been pumped out at a cost of $600. But because 230 homes empty into the tank, pollution of the bay, as far as swimming is concerned, will not be improved, he said.

The municipal works department also is continuing investigations into the "feasibility of chlorinating the effluent."

BEAT IT TRAILERITES

Peripatetic Homes Banned by Ottawa

By ROY LABERGE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) — Life in a trailer is far from carefree in Canada's capital where authorities keep the homes-on-wheels from settling permanently.

Ottawa and Hull, Que., across the Ottawa River, have health by-laws which prohibit trailer dwelling. Hull authorities say they have had no occasion to stop mobile home dwellers, but Ottawa city officials say they do not hesitate to chase, or prosecute trailer residents who do not move on when ordered.

The two townships which surround the capital city—Gloucester on the east and Nepean on the west—have strictly-enforced by-laws forbidding trailer dwellers to stay more than 60 days.

START CRACKDOWN

George Dolman, Gloucester Township constable and building inspector, recently began a crackdown on the few families still in habiting trailers scattered in out-of-the-way parts of the township. In Nepean, charges have been laid against trailer occupants, even though they lived in an organized trailer camp.

Reeve Earl Armstrong sums up the townships' big objection to occupants of the mobile homes in one word: "education." The objection is shared by many municipalities across the province. They argue that municipalities

Library Job Set for 1958

OTTAWA (CP) — Construction work on the new building to house the National Library is expected to start in 1958.

The date was disclosed in the annual report of the national librarian, Dr. W. Kaye Lamb, who informed Parliament that the site on Wellington street, a block west of Parliament Hill is to be available next year.

The site is that of No. 1 temporary building, a two-storey barracks-like frame building erected during the Second World War as government offices. Trade Minister Howe, who has offices in No. 1, will move to a new edifice across the street.

The National Library, planning a "substantial book collection," now has space for 150,000 books in stockrooms at the Public Archives Record Centre in the west-end Tunney's Pasture.

The report said that since 1950 the library has gathered a listing of more than 6,000,000 volumes kept in 87 libraries across Canada.

For this year the library plans to obtain microfilm records of the Paris newspapers Le Temps for 1938-42 and Le Monde for 1944-54, giving the library a complete file of Paris newspapers as far back as 1796, except for short gaps which will be filled later. It also plans to obtain a complete microfilm record of the New York Times from 1851.

It will obtain shortly newspaper files from Britain, the U.S., Germany, France and Switzerland for the whole period of the Second World War.

Democrats Slither Past Civil Rights

BY GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
CHICAGO (CP) — The Democratic national convention early today slithered past a party-splitting fight on the embattled racial issue and nailed a lukewarm compromise civil rights plank into the party platform. (See also page 3.)

Winding up a session on platform planks that rolled into the early-morning hours, it sidestepped the explosive issue through the political sagacity and generalship of Sam Rayburn, the stern-faced Texan who is convention chairman and Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Lading the agenda with hill-billy music and long-flowing speeches, Rayburn stalled off floor discussion of the controversial question while leaders of the party's northern and southern factions tried to work a further compromise to a mildly-toned plank produced by the convention's platform committee.

When the issue finally hit the floor after midnight, the question still was unresolved but the delegates were too weary to do much about it. An attempt by northern delegates to strengthen the plank failed.

have no way of making the parents contribute to school costs through municipal taxation. The Canadian Mobile Home Association says trailer dwelling is here to stay because it is ideally suited to military personnel, construction workers and others who are frequently on the move because of their jobs. Living in a mobile home, the association says, keeps together families who otherwise would be separated.

The association has urged authorities to find means whereby municipalities can tax the trailer residents instead of moving them away, and has sought legislation from the Ontario government to define the trailer home as an assessable property.

Government interest in the problem led it to send a group of officials to Michigan State University last year to study a model trailer park layout at Lansing, Mich., set up as part of a regular university course on trailer management.

SOME PAY TAX
Meanwhile, Goulburn Township, which lies just west of Nepean Township, has found its own answer to the taxation problem. A trailer manufacturer has set up a trailer camp with facilities for about 20 mobile home families. Families pay $20 monthly for camping privileges. The camp operator pays $10 monthly per family to the municipality for school costs.

Most of the trailer owner-occupants at the camp, located seven miles west of Ottawa city limits on highway 15, are members of the armed forces stationed at national defence headquarters.

Each trailer has its own separate underground water supply, separate septic tank, concrete runway, patio and electric power line.

Home owner association officials suggest the licensed trailer park as a means whereby municipalities could end their worries about trailer dwellers, and have drawn up suggested by-laws for governing and regulating them.

Sanders Sorry To Lose Ronnie Knox

DENVER (AP) — Henry (Red) Sanders, football coach at the University of California, Los Angeles, said Wednesday he is "sorry" to lose Ronnie Knox, his talented tailback. He called him the "greatest tailback" he ever had.

Just a few hours earlier he had learned Knox had decided to play with the professional Hamilton Tiger Cats of Canada's Big Four Football League rather than play his senior half season for the Bruins.

"I can't really blame him," Sanders said. "The kids have just been sitting around trying to find out what is going to happen."

Under a Pacific Coast Conference edict, seniors-to-be at UCLA will be able to play just five consecutive games of the 1956 season.

Sanders is in Denver to lecture at the Colorado High School Coaches' Association.

Food Poor At Women's Home Committee Told

Complaints of poor food "upsetting health" at the Aged Women's Home have reached the city social welfare committee.

Welfare administrator, William Hoosen, was instructed by the committee to draw complaints to the attention of the private board which oversees operation of the home.

The city has no jurisdiction but has welfare cases in the home.

A letter received by welfare chairman, Mrs. Lily Wilson, said one elderly woman became very depressed by a breakfast diet of the same food week after week. The writer was a visitor to the home recently.

It went on to say "everything is economy," and since all three meals are served within a period of eight hours there is too long a gap between the evening meal and breakfast.

The evening cup, made from powdered milk containing "sediment," is "unpalatable," said the writer.

17 Special Awards To Venture Cadets

Seventeen special awards were presented to cadets and cadet divisions at HMCS Venture ceremonies today, when 97 young men became midshipmen in the RCN.

They formed the first class to graduate from Venture, which was established at Esquimalt two years ago to help fill the navy's growing need for junior officers.

A message to the cadets from Rear-Admiral Hugh F. Pullen, flag officer, Pacific Coast, said: "Your training has been aimed towards giving you the knowledge and skills that you will need to be efficient naval officers."

IN GOOD HANDS
"In the years to come you will be called upon to assume greater responsibility. I am confident you will meet the standard required of you, and that the future of the service will be in good hands."

Graduation ceremony was witnessed by Vice Admiral H. G. DeWolf, chief of naval staff.

Wage Parity Asked For Dockyard Firemen

The new Victoria Labor Council threw its weight behind navy civilian firefighters' demands for prevailing rate salaries Wednesday night.

Firefighters, employed at HMCS Naden and HMC Dockyard by the federal government, have long complained they receive lower wages than those prevailing in municipal fire departments in this area.

In a letter to the council a spokesman for the federal firefighters' union (which may not bargain collectively), said firemen at Pacific Command received less than the 7-10 per cent wage hike granted civil servants in April of this year.

In fact, said the letter, fire captains, lieutenants and other ranks in the department suffered a wage cut which was made retroactive. The loss ranged up to $15 a month.

A brief outlining the union's arguments has been prepared, basing desired salaries on amounts paid members of Victoria fire department.

Marilyn Declines Bid To Swim Lake Superior

Marilyn Bell will be too busy wrestling with the Strait of Juan de Fuca to accept an invitation to try unconquered Thunder Bay, at the western tip of Lake Superior, next month.

The Fort William, Ont., city council has invited Marilyn to try the swim between Sibley Peninsula and Chippewa Park and an unidentified sponsor is reported to have put up $20,000 for the first person making the 18-mile swim.

Two Lakehead men tried it two years ago but made only eight miles before the cold water beat them.

A spokesman for Marilyn said today, "She has enough on her hands out here with Juan de Fuca."

33 years of misery... ASTHMA and Chronic Bronchitis

If bronchial asthma sometimes makes you feel like a human wreck, see what happened to Mr. H. J. Reader, Box 231, Armstrong, B.C. He tells us: "When I was 45 years of age, I began to suffer from asthma and chronic bronchitis. At 78 years of age, I had not found the medicine I needed to get relief from attacks of coughing, wheezing and gasping for breath. Then I was introduced to Templeton's RAZ-MAH by a neighbour, and am thankful indeed to have learned about this comforting relief. Since using RAZ-MAH I breathe far more easily... sleep comfortably and am able to take pleasure in life again... get about without difficulty!" Enjoy quick relief from chronic bronchitis and asthma with Templeton's RAZ-MAH—only 79c and $1.50 at drug counters. B-116

First-Class Guide to Keep Working for 'Gold Cords'

For the first time in four years, Doris Watters, 15, didn't attend Girl Guide camp this summer.

DORIS WATTERS

Mrs. E. Watters is guide captain of Doris' group, the 1st Marigold Guide Company.

"I'd gone for the past three years and this was Mom's first trip," said Doris.

WITH 12 BADGES testing to her prowess as a homemaker, Doris experienced no difficulty in her duties as nurse, cook and baby-sitter.

Her badges have been earned over a period of four years as a guide. Now a first-class guide, she is the senior member of her group and plans to keep working until she gets her "gold cords", highest guide award possible.

Grade 10 student at Mt. View High school, Doris plans to be a home economics teacher. Guide work doesn't leave much time for hobbies, but she does "a lot of reading and swimming."

Doris is the eldest daughter of Mrs. E. Watters, 330 Snowdrop avenue.

vention. The first was Washington's blond, handsome Senator Warren Magnuson who immediately withdrew in favor of Stevenson.

In delegation caucuses early this afternoon a big march was on for Stevenson, 56-year-old former Illinois governor and 1952 nominee.

The latest Associated Press poll gives Stevenson 690—or 3½ votes more than needed for the nomination.

Governor Averell Harriman of New York, who made the chief challenge to Stevenson in the week's manoeuvring, insisted he was still in serious contention. He fired a telegram to all chairmen of state delegations telling them:

"I just talked with ex-President Truman. We are determined to fight through to the nomination tonight regardless of any rumors to the contrary you have heard or may yet hear."

But to the delegates the remaining unanswered big question of the convention was: Who will be Stevenson's running mate? That decision is scheduled for Friday's convention session.

Forest Fires Cost Canada $16 Millions

OTTAWA (CP)—Forest fires cost Canada more than $16,000,000 in 1955, the forestry branch of the federal resources department calculates.

The branch estimated actual damage was $7,140,960, cost of fire-fighting was $6,570,000 and other charges brought this past $16,000,000.

The timber lost figure of $7,140,960 compared with 1954-1955 average of $3,656,718. Average annual fire-fighting costs over this period were $2,059,000. In 1955 lightning was the major cause of fires.

$6 Million Expansion Announced By McGill

MONTREAL (BUP)—McGill University Wednesday announced plans for a $6 million building expansion program to cope with an expected enrollment of 9,500 by 1965.

University officials said they hope to raise the money through a public appeal starting in October.

12% Staggered Wage Increase Awarded 8,000 CPR Employees

OTTAWA (BUP)—Eight thousand employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway today received word of a federal conciliation board recommendation that they get a 7 per cent pay increase, effective April 1, 1956, and a further 5 per cent on June 1, 1957.

Union leaders waited for official reaction from the CPR before giving the news a joyous reception. Refusal by the CPR to pay the new rates could lead to further protracted negotiations between the parties.

The board's recommendation was contained in a unanimous report to Labor Minister Milton Gregg which was released today. Judge J. C. Anderson, of Belleville, Ont., was chairman of the board.

At issue was the collective agreement between the CPR and five-groups of employees represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. They are:

switchtenders and car retarder operators, Eastern region.
3. Conductors, baggagemen and brakemen, Eastern region.
4. Conductors, baggagemen and trainmen, Prairie and Pacific regions.
5. Yard foremen, helpers and switchtenders, Pacific and Prairie regions.
The board recommended that a company union agreement which was scheduled for revision last March 31 be renewed for 26 months, until May 31, 1958.

... BENNETT

Canadian is a Canadian wherever he comes from."

He declared the Social Credit government had only laid the foundations for its administration in B.C. and needed another mandate to put the rest of its "ambitious and far-reaching plans" into effect.

RECESSION?

When asked if he saw any danger of a recession which would interfere with his plans, Mr. Bennett replied:

"The only danger of a recession is if the federal government in Ottawa keeps raising the bank rate. That is the way to promote a recession. But I cannot believe they will raise it again. I don't think there will be a recession."

Of the possibility of a fall session of the legislature to deal with new forest legislation, the premier said:

"It all depends when we get the report of the Sloan royal commission. We do not want to rush the chief justice on such an important matter. But if he can finish his report in time we will probably have a fall session."

Mr. Bennett said he would not be travelling extensively during the campaign as he was "determined not to neglect his duties as premier for purely political ends."

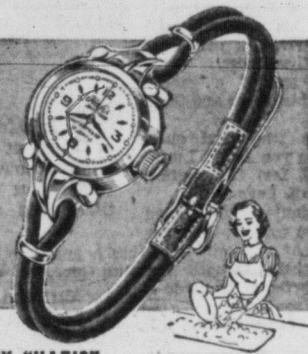

Phone Cable Now Completed Under Atlantic

CLARENVILLE, Nfld. (BUP)—Splicers aboard the cable ship Monarch moored off this Newfoundland community have joined the final link in a new submarine telephone cable between the old world and the new.

The $40,000,000 project, which began in June, 1955, was a joint effort by the Canadian Overseas Telecommunications Corporation, American Telephone and Telegraph, Eastern Telephone and Telegraph, and the British post office.

When the line is opened for use, six weeks from now, there will be 36 circuits, 30 to and from the United States and six serving Canada.

Pirie to Seek Double At Melbourne Olympics

LONDON (AP) — Gordon Pirie, Britain's world record holder at 5,000 metres, Wednesday was picked to try for a 5,000 and 10,000 double in the Olympic Games at Melbourne.

The 25-year-old paint salesman had hoped to try for a triple, including the 1,500 metres, but the selectors of the British Olympic track and field squad apparently considered that would be too much of a task for even the stout-hearted Pirie.

Pirie celebrated his selection for the 5,000 and 10,000 metre Olympic events Wednesday by clocking the fastest time this year for two miles.

Running at an international track meet here, 25-year-old Pirie was timed in eight minutes, 42.6 seconds. The world record, held by Hungarian Sandor Iharos, is eight minutes, 33.4 seconds.

A total of 50 stars, 39 men and 11 women, were named for Britain's largest travelling Olympic track and field squad.

Two men who have broken the four-minute mile, Chris Chataway and Geoff Derek Ibbotson, were chosen with Pirie for the 5,000.

The 1,500 trio includes one sub-

Democrats Slither Past Civil Rights

BY GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
CHICAGO (CP)—The Democratic national convention early today slithered past a party-splitting fight on the embattled racial issue and nailed a lukewarm compromise civil rights plank into the party platform.

Winding up a session on platform planks that rolled into the early morning hours, it side-stepped the explosive issue through the political sagacity and generalship of Sam Rayburn, the stern-faced Texan who is convention chairman and Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Trunk Sewer

Hookup Studied For Kinver Street

Estimates are being prepared on the cost of pumping effluent from the Kinver Street septic tank to the northwest trunk sewer to combat pollution at Kinver beach, Esquimalt municipal engineer John Graeme said Wednesday.

Solids clogging the septic tank have been pumped out at a cost of $500. But because 230 homes empty into the tank, pollution of the bay, as far as swimming is concerned, will not be improved, he said.

The municipal works department also is continuing investigations into the "feasibility of chlorinating the effluent."

ARTHUR LAING CHARGES—

Socreds 'Racing With the Law...

(From CP and BUP)
VANCOUVER — British Columbia Liberal Leader Arthur Laing flew the flag of "left of centre liberalism" in the cause of reform and social improvement in his first election manifesto Wednesday.

Thrusting hard at Premier W. A. C. Bennett, Laing said the premier's snap election call was "a race with the law," designed to prevent the voters from hearing charges "which have tainted his entire government."

The early election is designed to "smother" disclosures of public business, he said. Although the Liberal leader did not refer to it by name, he was obviously speaking of the "Somers-Sturdy case," which is still before the courts in a slander charge brought by former lands and forests minister Robert Somers.

Laing said election issues are more fundamental than the "highly commendable" building of roads, bridges and railways, which are administrative duties.

He said "they are building

Dulles Wins Backing On 4-Point Suez Plan

LONDON (UP)—The U.S. today revealed to the 22-nation London conference its four-point plan for internationalizing the Suez Canal.

The plan, outlined by Secretary of State Dulles at the party's afternoon session, won immediate backing from Sweden and Portugal.

The Dulles' proposals—said to represent the "co-ordinated views" of the United States, Britain and France—would free the canal from domination by any one power or groups of powers.

The four points were:
1. The canal should be operated in accordance with the 1888 Constantinople convention under an international board to be established by treaty and associated with the United Nations. Egypt would be represented on the board, but there would be no dominating by any power or groups of powers and no prejudice to any power.
2. Egypt's right to a fair return would be recognized.

3. There would be fair compensation to the canal's former stockholders.
4. Any differences would be submitted to an arbitration commission.

Dulles was the first speaker at the conference's afternoon session.

Prime Minister Anthony Eden warned the morning session that the Suez crisis is the gravest since the Second World War and Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov challenged the competence of the conference to settle the dispute.

But the fledgling Russian foreign minister announced his country would not "hampers" the conference.
He said the exchange of viewpoints at London could be "extremely useful as a first step."

Of the 24 nations invited to the London talks, only Greece and Egypt are unrepresented envoys. But Premier Nasser has sent his cabinet chief to be "an unofficial observer."

Ottawa Plans to Claim Rights To All Waters in Hecate Strait

BY DAVE MCINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) — Canada plans to claim the Gulf of St. Lawrence and similar Canadian bodies of water—including B.C.'s Hecate Strait—as its territorial water, it was learned today.

It is understood this claim will be set out before the United Nations this fall at the same time that Canada asks recognition of the 12-mile territorial limit. The present limit is three miles off-shore.

Officials said this country will claim as territorial waters, besides the Gulf of St. Lawrence, bodies of water such as the Queen Charlotte Islands and British Columbia mainland, and Amundsen Gulf and Foxe Basin in the Arctic.

Throughout the world, territorial limits extend from three miles offshore all the way to 200 miles.

The United Kingdom and United States have three-mile limits, Russia a 12-mile limit and Peru, Chile and Ecuador have declared 200-mile limits.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

ALMIGHTY GOD, who created us to be Thine own, make us alert to Thy presence in every experience of this and each succeeding day; through Jesus Christ. Amen.

Sanders Sorry To Lose Ronnie Knox

DENVER (AP) — Henry (Red) Sanders, football coach at the University of California, Los Angeles, said Wednesday he is "sorry" to lose Ronnie Knox, his talented tailback. He called him the "greatest tailback" he ever had.

Just a few hours earlier he had learned Knox had decided to play with the professional Hamilton Tiger-Cats of Canada's Big Four Football League rather than play his senior half season for the Bruins.

"I can't really blame him," Sanders said. "The kids have been sitting around trying to find out what is going to happen."

Under a Pacific Coast Conference rule, seniors-to-be at UCLA will be able to play just five consecutive games of the 1956 season.

The northerners wanted the party to pledge itself to carry out the decision, but the southern delegates, coming from states where the court ruling is being resisted, wanted no part of any proposal to endorse the court's edict.

The civil rights plank which was finally arrived at scrupulously avoided any direct suggestion that party supporters should implement the Supreme Court's decision.

Rayburn was credited with helping arrange for several speakers to urge adoption of a stronger civil rights minority report. Several others, including Truman, spoke against it. No roll-call vote was taken.

Truman said he had had a hand in writing every Democratic platform since 1936, including the current one.

"It's the best one this convention has ever had before it," he declared.

NOES HAVE IT

Rayburn put the question of adoption of the northerners' minority report. There was a roar of "noes" almost matched by the shouted "ayes."

"In the opinion of the chair—" Rayburn began. There was a chorus of "no, no, no."

"Now, just a moment," Rayburn said sternly. "I have taken the 'ayes' and 'noes' many times and I think I can tell who has the most."

"In the opinion of the chair, the 'noes' have it and the minority report is rejected."

17 Special Awards To Venture Cadets

Seventeen special awards were presented to cadets and cadet divisions at HMCS Venture ceremonies today, when 97 young men became midshipmen in the RCN.

They formed the first class to graduate from Venture, which was established at Esquimalt two years ago to help fill the navy's growing need for junior officers.

A message to the cadets from Rear-Admiral Hugh F. Pullen, flag officer, Pacific Coast, said: "Your training has been aimed towards giving you the knowledge and skills that you will need to be efficient naval officers."

"In the years to come you will be called upon to assume greater responsibility. I am confident you will meet the standard required of you, and that the future of the service will be in good hands."

Graduation ceremony was witnessed by Vice Admiral H. G. DeWolf, chief of naval staff.

Food Poor At Women's Home Committee Told

Complaints of poor food "upsetting health" at the Aged Women's Home have reached the city social welfare committee.

Welfare administrator, William Hoosen, was instructed by the committee to draw complaints to the attention of the private board which oversees operation of the home.

The city has no jurisdiction but has welfare cases in the home.

A letter received by welfare chairman, Mrs. Lily Wilson, said an elderly woman became very depressed by a breakfast diet of the same food week after week. The writer was a visitor to the home recently.

It went on to say "everything is economy," and since all three meals are served within a period of eight hours there is too long a gap between the evening meal and breakfast.

Special graduation awards presented were:

Officer of the watch telescope for highest standing in scholastic and professional subjects and officer-like qualities: Cadet C. G. Gudgeon, Lynn Lake, Man.

The Pullen trophy for the cadet outstanding in professional scholastic and athletic achievement: Cadet K. Davies, Montreal.

The officer's sword for the cadet outstanding in officer-like qualities: Cadet C. M. Thomas, Gibson's Landing, B.C. The Hampton Gray Shield for the cadet outstanding in athletic ability and sportsmanship: Cadet W. J. Fuoco, Ottawa.

The Rowland cup, for the cadet judged by his fellows to be outstanding in leadership and sportsmanship: Cadet D. C. Briggs, Ottawa.

The Naden trophy for highest standing among executive cadets: Cadet J. G. Caruthers, Carp, Ont.

The engineer officers trophy for highest standing among cadets of the engineering branch: Cadet Gudgeon.

The supply officers trophy for highest standing among cadets of the supply branch: Cadet B. A. King, Ottawa.

The engineer-in-chief prize for the engineering branch cadet outstanding in professional subjects, officer-like qualities, and sports: Cadet J. E. Green, Farnham, Quebec.

Divisional winners were: Reid Division, the Reid Trophy, Jeune Brothers Trophy, the Stephens trophy, and the Royal Roads ex-cadet trophy.

Brodeur Division, the Grant trophy and Brodeur trophy. Stephens Division, the Conway trophy.

Terrorists Call Truce on Cyprus

Halt Ordered in Bombings That Have Killed 50 Britons

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)—A pamphlet purporting to be issued by the EOKA terrorist organization today announced that it had called a truce in its anti-British campaign of violence.

The pamphlet, which bore the name of "Digenis," the EOKA leader, said the suspension of all EOKA activities had been ordered to avoid further bloodshed.

The immediate official reaction was that the leaflet was genuine.

The terrorists, who launched their campaign on April 1, 1955, are said to be led by a retired Greek Army officer named George Grivas. He signs himself "Digenis."

The EOKA terrorists seek the union of this British island colony with Greece. Four-fifths of the island's 500,000 population is of Greek origin and the remainder mainly of Turkish background.

More than 70 persons were killed by terrorists in the first

Marilyn Declines Bid To Swim Lake Superior

Marilyn Bell will be too busy wrestling with the Strait of Juan de Fuca to accept an invitation to try unquenched Thunder Bay, at the western tip of Lake Superior, next month.

The Fort William, Ont., city council has invited Marilyn to try the swim between Sibley Peninsula and Chippewa Park and an unidentified sponsor is reported to have put up $20,000 for the first person making the 18-mile swim.

Two Lakehead men tried it two years ago but made only eight miles before the cold water beat them.

A spokesman for Marilyn said today, "She has enough on her hands out here with Juan de Fuca."

33 years of misery... ASTHMA and Chronic Bronchitis

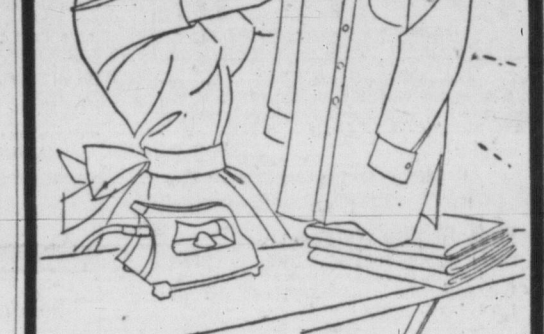

If bronchial asthma sometimes makes you feel like a human wreck, see what happened to Mr. H. J. Reeder, Box 321, Armstrong, B.C. He tells us: "When I was 45 years of age, I began to suffer from asthma and chronic bronchitis. At 78 years of age, I had not found the medicine I needed to get relief from attacks of coughing, wheezing and gasping for breath. Then I was introduced to Templeton's RAZ-MAH by a neighbour, and am thankful indeed to have learned about this comforting relief. Since using RAZ-MAH I breathe far more easily... sleep comfortably and am able to take pleasure in life again... get about without difficulty!" Enjoy quick relief from chronic bronchitis and asthma with Templeton's RAZ-MAH—only 79c and $1.50 at drug counters.
